AMERICAN BANKERS MEET AT DETROIT

Committee Named to Re-Write the Association's Constitution

ROBERT W. BONYNGE SPEAKS

Member of the National Monetary Commission Talks on "Banking And Currency Reforms"—Calls on Critics

Detroit, Mich., Sept. 10.—By quiet and skilful parliamentary maneuvers, Andrew J. Frame, of Waukesha, at the annual convention of the American Bankers' Association, this afternoon, dictated the personnel of a committee which the organization had previously granted the power of rewriting the association's constitution. The committee was ordered to report at the Spring convention.

Mr. Frame named as a prospective committee R. E. James, Easton, Pa.; W. J. Bailey, Atchison, Kas.; O. E. Dunlap, Waxahachie, Texas; C. H. McNider, Charles City, Iowa; Gordon Jones, Denver, and accepted Sol. Wexler, New Orleans, by request to give the South representation.

With today's adjournment to Friday, the members of the association proper looked forward to two days of recreation. A number of entertainments have been arranged for Wednesday and Thursday, during which time the National organizations, meeting in connection with the association are to hold their conventions.

The bankers' annual ball was held tonight at a local hotel.

Speech-making was the order of business at both sessions of the convention of the National Association of Bank Supervisors today. Open discussion followed several of the addresses. Nearly all of the speakers were State banking commissioners.

Now is the time for critics of the proposed National Reserve Association, recommended by the National Monetary Commission, to come forward and point out what they believe to be defects in the plan, in the opinion of Robert W. Bonynge, a member of the commission, who addressed the American Bankers' Association in convention here today. Mr. Bonynge's address was on "Banking and Currency Reform." He spoke, in part, as follows:

"Our banking and currency system is universally recognized as thoroughly unsound. All the political parties have declared in their platforms of this year in favor of its reformation, but no specific remedial legislation has been proposed by any. It is perhaps better that they should not have done so. The problem is essentially an economic and business question.

"The defects in the existing system that must be remedied no matter which party is charged with the responsibility of framing the legislation are: Our unscientific treatment of bank reserves, the rigidity of our entire credit system and the lack of cooperation between our independent banks.

"Our present reserve system restricts the loaning power of banks at times when reserves should be freely used and credit liberally extended to solvent business men and thereby intensifies, if it does not actually produce panics. Our scattered reserves are wholly ineffective for use in emergencies. Our bank notes do not fluctuate in response to business needs. Even the commercial paper held by the banks is not a truly liquid asset with us. Each separate bank in times of stress is concerned only in strengthening its reserves. The sole method available for that purpose is the calling of loans. The portion of the reserves held in the vaults of our thousands of independent banks is for all practical purposes a dead asset. Indeed, rigidity stamps itself upon our entire credit organization.

"We have only local banks. They furnish banking facilities to their own communities. They are indispensible. But it must be obvious that these strictly local institutions cannot look after or provide for the general credit conditions of the country at large.

"As it was found necessary to organize the Federal government to guard our National interests and to legislate on those subjects affecting us as a nation, so we must have some National federation of the banks for National financial purposes. The independence of the units must be absolutely preserved. The powers given to the federation of the banks must be strictly limited to those that are National in character. The form of organization must be such as to insure its operation in the interests of and as a support to all legitimate business and must be wholly free from sectional, political or selfish financial control.

"When thus organized it must be empowered to act as custodian for the reserves of the banks, to rediscount their short-time commercial paper, to provide a safe and sound bank note currency that will automatically adjust itself to the constant changes in business requirements, to act as the government's fiscal agent, and to represent us in all National and all international financial affairs.

Progressives and Roosevelt Republicans Revise State Ticket

"MARY ANN" PLAYS HEAVY

Butler Turns Down His Brother For the Gubernatorial Candidate and Forces Honor on Wilmington Man.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Greensboro, N. C., Sept. 10.—The Progressive State Committee and the committee named by the bolting Roosevelt Republicans at Charlotte to advise with the Progressives with regard to uniting upon a State ticket, met here today, holding afternoon and night joint sessions. The work of the day consisted mainly in revising the State ticket, where such was made necessary by resignations; an agreement to maintain separate State campaign organizations, and yet to work harmoniously for the success of the State and National tickets of the Progressives.

The Pearson-Butler wing, representing the Charlotte convention, held that to unite in organization would be detrimental to tickets in Republican counties, while James N. Williamson and W. S. Pearson pleaded for united organization.

Zeb Vance Walser declined to run for Governor and Iredell Meares, who had been named as a State elector, was put at the head of the ticket. James N. Williamson, Jr., withdrew as the Charlotte nominee for Insurance Commissioner, and Thomas McMillan, a Coast Line engineer of Rocky Mount, was named. V. S. Lusk was named to succeed Iredell Meares on the electoral ticket at large. The committee ratified all other nominations made at Charlotte.

Marion Butler, who it was reported, was turned down by both wings at Charlotte, was one of the most conspicuous figures here today and he is reputed to have played a prominent role in the deliberations of the committee. Butler came on the proxy of his brother, George Butler, and rewarded George by keeping him from being named as Governor and thus forcing the honor upon Mr. Meares.

The younger Butler was first nominated and had several supporters, but Marion steadfastly ruled that it must not be.

The principal discussion was waged over the question of whether the two wings should unite or whether each party should go its own way, though with a sort of understanding that they would meet at the polls. James N. Williamson, Jr., W. S. Pearson and others urged a united organization, while Butler, Richmond Pearson, Charles H. Cowles and others maintained that both sides could work more effectively under separate organizations. It was finally determined to continue separately, the Progressives preferring the chairmanship of their party to Zeb Vance Walser, while the Roosevelt Republicans, as the Richmond Pearson-Marion Butler wing will style themselves, made no selection.

A committee was named to redraft the Progressive platform adopted at Greensboro by the Progressives, this comittee having five representatives from each wing. Walser, Richmond Pearson, J. J. Jenkins, Charles H. Cowles and Charles E. Greene represent the Roosevelt Republicans and Maj. W. A. Guthrie, H. J. Faison, W. S. Pearson, W. S. Bailey, R. A. Burch, and Iredell Meares represent the Progressives. It is understood that this committee will meet later tonight and round up the platform.

Late tonight the Roosevelt Republicans agreed upon Charles H. Cowles as chairman of that wing of the organization and adopted a resolution declaring allegiance to the Chicago platform and the principles of the Republican party, though repudiating the nomination of Taft.

James H. Cook, of Guilford, nominee of the Republican convention for State Insurance Commissioner, tonight addressed to Chairman Morehead a letter of resignation, declaring it to be absolutely impossible for him to accept. It is a general rumor that Cyrus P. Frazier, nominee for Superintendent of Public Instruction, will also address a letter of resignation to Chairman Morehead.

G. O. P. MEETING CALLED.

Hilles Will Look Into Disloyalty of National Committeemen.

New York, Sept. 10.—A meeting of the Republican National Committee to consider charges of disloyalty to the Taft cause which have been made against certain members, has been called for Wednesday, September 18, at noon in this city.

Chairman Hilles, who issued the call today, said: "I have called the meeting for the purpose of taking up charges which have been made against several members of the committee who are alleged to be disloyal to Republican principles embodied in the Chicago platform and to the Republican National ticket."

Mr. Hilles declined to give the names of the National committeemen who have been charged with disloyalty.

LUMBERTON PASTOR SUICIDES

Rev. R. E. Steele Takes His Own Life After Period of Depression—Prominent as Presbyterian Minister and Chaplain

(Special Star Telegram.)

Lumberton, N. C., Sept. 10.—This entire community was greatly shocked this afternoon when it was announced that Rev. R. E. Steele, pastor of the Presbyterian church here, had died at 2:35 o'clock as the result of taking some poisonous drug. Mr. Steele had been sick for several days but no one ever thought of his taking his life.

Some of his intimate friends in looking back, recall that for several months, at times, he did not appear right, but did not regard it seriously at the time. He is said to have preached an unusually strong sermon last Sunday week.

However, since that time, his health has been greatly broken and it is stated that he had suffered great mental depression. It is learned tonight that arrangements were being made to take him to some institution for confinement and treatment when he took the deadly poison that resulted in his death. The drug, it is said, is a new one and very deadly. So far as could be learned, no reason for the rash act has been assigned other than the mental condition of the minister.

Mr. Steele came here from Spencer a year or two ago to assume the pastorate of the Lumberton church and during his stay here made many friends. He was for a number of years chaplain of the Navy. Mr. Steele is survived by his widow, four daughters and one son.

The tragedy this afternoon occurred at the Presbyterian manse and all members of the family were at the home with the exception of the son, who is grown and is in school. Mr. Steele served as chaplain through the Spanish-American War and had recently made an effort to organize the Spanish war veterans in the eastern section of the State. He was president of the Christian Endeavor Union of the State and presided only recently at the sessions held in Wilmington. He organized the Boy Scouts of Lumberton and took a deep interest in the work of the church, especially among the young people. The news of his death will be a great shock to many friends and acquaintances throughout the State.

The funeral will be conducted from the Presbyterian church tomorrow at 11 o'clock by his intimate friend, Rev. Dr. Byron Clark, of Salisbury, and the interment will be made in Meadow Brook cemetery.

PROMISE TO RESIST CUPID.

Teachers in Hazleton, Pa., Schools Required to Take Pledge.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., Sept. 10.—Before successful applicants for positions in Hazleton township's schools are permitted to start work they must submit in writing a promise that they will not fall victims to Cupid's darts during the nine months school term.

Some of the teachers who refused to furnish the written promise have been informed that their services will not be required.

It is understood that the new rule had delayed a few mid-winter weddings. The school board made the demand to prevent a scarcity of teachers after the terms were under way.

MOB SHOOTS NEGRO IN JAIL

Crowd Storms the Cumming, Ga., Lock-Up, Riddles Ed Collins With Bullets, Mutilates Body and Strings It Up.

Cumming, Ga., Sept. 10.—Mob spirit, which has been at fever heat here since threatened race trouble Saturday, boiled over today when several hundred white men stormed the local jail and riddled Ed Collins, a negro, with bullets. The body of the negro was mutilated with a crowbar and then dragged to the public square. In the presence of a crowd of over 2,000 citizens the dead negro was strung up to a telephone pole.

Collins was arrested today along with three other negroes in connection with the assault on a young white girl here Sunday. It is alleged that he assisted Ernest Cox, alias Daniels, the negro who confessed to the crime, in hiding the body. Cox was taken to Atlanta for safe keeping. Sheriff Reid had difficulty in getting the prisoners into the local jail on account of the mob which assembled when the arrests were made public. Shortly after the negroes were incarcerated the mob attacked the jail with crowbars and effected an en-

RESIGNS TO JOIN MOOSERS

Commissioner of Indian Affairs Valentine Leaves Interior Department to Take Up Arms With Progressives.

Washington, Sept. 10.—Robert G. Valentine, Commissioner of Indian Affairs, today sent his resignation to the Interior Department to become effective at the discretion of Secretary Fisher, now in Hawaii. Mr. Valentine will join the Progressive party.

In a public statement explaining his resignation, Mr. Valentine referred to his desire to work in the Progressive party as his only wish for quitting office. He made no mention of the so-called Indian garb order which he promulgated a few months ago and which raised a storm of protest from officers of the Roman Catholic church.

It forbade the wearing of religious garb by teachers in Indian schools. It was claimed its effect would have been to bar sisters of the Catholic organizations from schools on the reservations.

President Taft summarily suspended the order. A new one is about to be promulgated. Its terms are not fully known, but it is reported it probably will satisfy those on both sides of the controversy. Mr. Valentine has defended the order on the ground that it favored the principle of the separation of Church and State.

In his statement the commissioner said:

"Inasmuch as the President knows the needs of the Indian Service and the forces of evil that are to be guarded against, I need not refuse the call of duty that the Progressive party programme makes on me through fear that the Indians would be left unprotected. On the contrary, I believe when confronted with the necessity the President will appoint someone having the standards of Miss Lathrop at the head of the Children's Bureau, or Mr. Conant, at the head of the Bureau of Corporations.

"The work of the Indian Service is, from every honorable point of view, a non-political work of social service. I would not now leave it except for what seems to me a pressing obligation to take part in the larger work of the Progressive party on the same lines.

THE RESULT IN MAINE

Governor Wilson Sees Nothing Discouraging In the Situation

Atlantic City, N. J., Sept. 10.—Governor Woodrow Wilson, arriving here today, declared himself satisfied with the outcome of the gubernatorial election in Maine.

"I think the results are very satisfactory, indeed," he said, "based on the results of both four years ago and two years ago. Two years ago the Republicans were divided, but this time they were united. That makes a great difference. In 1904, as I remember, a Republican Governor was elected by 25,000 and Mr. Taft's majority was about 14,000."

Governor Wilson added that the essential thing to consider was that while the Republicans in Maine had gotten together the Democrats had more than held their own, reducing Republican pluralities extensively. He thought also that the vote in Maine showed "the same drift" as it did in Vermont, namely, that Democrats were not losing but gaining votes in States ordinarily Republican.

PERMIT FEDERALS TO CROSS BORDER

Mexican Force Will Go Through U. S. Territory to Attack Rebels

REBEL LEADER IS DEFEATED

The Rout of Gen. Salazar Gives Great Satisfaction to American Government Officials—Rebels Concentrating

Washington, Sept. 10.—Permission given to move 1,200 Mexican troops through United States territory to attack the Mexican rebels in the State of Sonora, and the reported repulse and retreat from the border of the rebel leader, Gen. Salazar and his men, combined today to bring satisfaction to government officials here. The permission to move troops was granted Mexico without hesitation and everything will be done to insure the careful transportation of the Federals.

While a certain amount of unrest will exist on the international boundary line as long as the trouble in Mexico continues, officials here are deeply gratified that the scene of hostilities apparently is being removed from the border. With a considerable force of Federals already garrisoning strategic towns in Sonora, it is expected that the 1,200 additional men will be sufficient either to subdue the malcontents or force them further South.

The Mexican troops will be entrained at El Paso, Texas, and be transported to Nogales, Arizona. Their arms and ammunition will be carefully sealed in express cars as they will go through American territory unarmed. In addition they will be guarded by a detachment of United States regulars. The date for the movement has not been set.

The report of the defeat of Gen. Salazar by the Federals in Ojinaga, was received here today with satisfaction. His presence on the border has been a menace to the continuance of peaceful relations with the Mexican people because of his raids into American territory.

There is much speculation on the concentration of rebel bands in the Ojas mountains and their preparations for a long and hurried march. Military observers are inclined to believe the rebel leaders intend either to gain the Mexican Central Railroad and intercept the Federals before they can get to El Paso, or they contemplate escape from the Federal cordon seeking to surround them, and are planning a fighting retreat along the mountains until they can join the Zapatistas in the South.

If the latter move is adopted the campaign, it is acknowledged, would be a lengthy and a costly one. The rebels are reported to have plenty of horses and consequently are much better equipped for such a campaign than the Federals.

President Taft today authorized commercial shipments of one thousand rifles, shotguns, pistols and revolvers and 183,000 cartridges and shells from New York to Mexico by water. The shipments are destined for undisturbed portions of the republic.

Rebels Fire on Train

Mexico City, Sept. 10.—Rebels today fired on a passenger train on the National Railway bound for Cuernavaca, State of Morelos, about 50 miles from here. The engineer was wounded. The fire was returned from the train. No further details have been learned.

Zapatistas a few days ago announced they would prevent operation of trains on this branch of the National road after September 10th.

Gen. Salazar's Movements

Douglas, Ariz., Sept. 10.—With his 400 followers living on the fat of the land, Gen. Salazar, the rebel commander, is moving slowly to the west along the international boundary. He is closely watched by United States cavalrymen, following the rebel movements from the American side.

Salazar and his small army remain at a ranch until all the choicest cattle and provisions are consumed and then move a few miles west, slowly nearing Agua Prieta, opposite Douglas. At last reports Salazar's command camped today on the Mescal ranch, only 25 miles east of Agua Prieta, where the Federal garrison was strengthened today by the arrival of 100 soldiers from the south. This makes the garrison number 300 men, but Salazar's forces may be strengthened at any time by the many groups of three to four hundred rebels operating in the vicinity.

A rebel colonel and a major wandered over the international line near Naco, Ariz., and were arrested by two United States custom line riders. The rebel officers were brought here today and lodged in jail on a charge of smuggling into the United States the horses they rode.

Richmond, Va., Sept. 10.—In a Democratic primary held today E. C. Folkes, Robert Whittet, John Hirschburg, Carl McCarthy and Henry P. Beck were elected members of the new administrative board which will perform executive duties heretofore falling upon the city council. The new board takes office on January 1, next.

NEW YORK'S MAYOR IS PERT WITNESS

Evades Lawyer's Efforts to Get His Views on Police Situation

A COUNTER- INVESTIGATION

Gaynor Sets on Foot An Investigation of Reports Damaging to the Aldermanic Committee—Refuses to Answer.

New York, Sept. 10.—For more than two hours this afternoon Wm. J. Gaynor, mayor of New York, sat in a witness chair at the city hall and evaded with picturesque retort the attempts of counsel for an aldermanic committee to learn his views on the police situation, brought to a head by the murder of a gambler, Herman Rosenthal.

Three times he threatened to leave the stand because he considered the questions irrelevant; twice he denounced the hearing as a scandalmongering excursion and often throughout his testimony he repeated that attempts to "scandalize" him would be in vain, for he said he had lived in the city too long and had begun his efforts to purify government long before Emory R. Buckner, counsel for the committee, was born.

At no time during his examination would he admit that the police department was inefficient. He expressed renewed confidence in Rhinelander Waldo, commissioner of police, and declared that, if the social evil flourished, it was at least on the decrease and was a lesser evil than police blackmail, which he had tried to eradicate.

By way of a counter-investigation of the committee, whose chairman, Alderman Wm. H. Curran, he denounced yesterday, the mayor before taking the stand set on foot an investigation of reports that the committee had accepted a high instead of a low bid for its stenographic work.

Nine out of every ten questions asked by Mr. Buckner remained unanswered. The mayor had formed no opinions, he said, and had not come to tell his opinions anyway. If he was asked about facts or about any instances wherein the police department had violated the law, he said he was ready to answer.

Four things, he said, he had brought about in the department:

First, he had done away with police "violence and clubbing"; second, he had forbidden the practice of policemen degrading themselves to get evidence against disorderly houses by consorting with immoral women; third, he had insisted on the integrity of the civil service so that "Murphy or anybody else can't influence appointments"; fourth, he had done away with graft in connection with enforcement of liquor laws. This graft, he said, had amounted to $3,000,000 annually.

Though the mayor lost his temper time and again and protested to Mr. Buckner that he was asking foolish questions the young lawyer kept at his task patiently, unruffled by the rebuffs. The crowd, which jammed the aldermanic chamber until standing room only remained, frequently broke into applause at the mayor's retorts.

"I hope you do not think I am trying to badger you, Mr. Mayor," remarked Mr. Buckner.

"Oh, I have to make allowances for your zeal and enthusiasm," replied the mayor laconically. "I was young once myself."

Attempts to Delay Case

New York, Sept. 10.—An effort to discredit the testimony of Sam Schepps, State witness in the Rosenthal case, was begun today when District Attorney Whitman was served with an order to show cause why a commission should not be appointed to examine three witnesses in Hot Springs, Ark.

The witnesses, among them Acting Mayor Petit, of Hot Springs, are said to have been told by Schepps while he was in custody there that he could exculpate Police Lieutenant Chas. Becker, accused of instigating the murder, whose trial is scheduled to begin next Thursday.

Schepps, according to the contention of John F. McIntyre, counsel for Becker, upon whose application the order was granted, told a story of the Rosenthal murder to those with whom he was associated in Hot Springs, entirely different from that told to District Attorney Whitman. He is said to have declared that Rosenthal was a victim of a gang feud.

Mr. Whitman said tonight that he would oppose the order, but if he lost would send an assistant district attorney with the commission to cross-examine the witnesses.

A clause in the application ordering the trial to be stayed until the commission made its report, was stricken out by Justice Newburger in granting the order, thus defeating the first of what District Attorney Whitman expects to be a series of steps to have the trial postponed. He anticipates that an application for a change of venue will be the next step taken.

RAYMOND KICKED TO DEATH.

Fred Cigranz Accused of Causing Former Pitcher's Death.

Chicago, Sept. 9.—Fred Cigranz, 23 years old, was arrested today and confessed to assaulting Arthur L. Raymond, former pitcher of the New York National League baseball team, Sunday, September 1st, at a semi-professional ball game. He said Raymond was a spectator at the game and that some one threw a piece of pottery, which struck the pitcher on the face. Raymond picked up the missile and struck Cigranz with it, and in the fight that followed Raymond was knocked down and kicked on the head a number of times.

Cigranz said he had no idea that Raymond was seriously injured. He told the police he had known the pitcher 15 years. While Cigranz was being taken to a police station the funeral cortege of Raymond passed and the prisoner wept as he told the story of the assault.

At the coroner's inquest, which began today, Dr. Springer reported that Raymond died from cerebral hemorrhage, due to a fracture of the skull. Cigranz's arrest followed. He will be held pending the outcome of the inquest.

Raymond was found dead in a downtown hotel Saturday and it was at first reported that his death was caused by heart disease, aggravated by heat.

Chicago, Sept. 10.—Joe Wood won his 15th straight victory today when Boston defeated Chicago in the opening game of the series 5 to 4. Wood weakened towards the end of the game and with his team still in the lead, he retired in favor of Hall, who held the game safe for the visitors. Boston scored three runs off the locals in the second. Bunched hits netted another run in the fifth and Wood brought in the winning run in the seventh. A double and a single forced Wood to retire and Hall came to the rescue, a long fly scoring Chicago's final run.

FATALLY SHOT BY POLICEMAN.

East Sider Who Slapped Girl's Face Attempted to Escape.

New York, Sept. 10.—Robert Dix, a young East Side man, is dying in the Harlem hospital today of a bullet fired by Patrolman Crosson last night. Dix had been arrested on complaint of a negro girl whose face he had slapped.

Policeman and prisoner were on their way to the station when Dix broke and ran. He seemed likely to escape and Crosson drew his revolver and fired three shots. The first dropped an innocent bystander with a bullet in his leg. The second shot went wild. The third brought the fugitive to earth with a wound in his breast.

Crosson is known on the force as "Diamond Dick." He has devoted much of his attention recently to an extended search for "Gyp the Blood."

Trotter Takes Empire State Stake From Classy Field.

Syracuse, N. Y., Sept. 10.—Baden, piloted by A. S. Rodney, of Jersey City, N. J., won the $10,000 Empire State stake for 2:14 trotters, the feature event of today's Grand Circuit programme at the New York State Fair in straight heats. Forced to her limit by a classy field of rivals, Baden trotted the three fastest heats of the year, in the second heat, being forced by Esther W., to clip her record to 2:05 3-4.

In every heat Baden led from gong to gong, thought at times only by a head.

Many Driven From Home

Every year, in many parts of the country, thousands are driven from their homes by coughs and lung diseases. Friends and business are left behind for other climates, but this is costly and not always sure. A better way—the way of multitudes—is to use Dr. King's New Discovery and cure yourself at home. Stay right there, with your friends, and take this safe medicine. Throat and lung troubles find quick relief and health returns. Its help in coughs, colds, grip, croup, whooping cough and sore lungs make it a positive blessing. 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free. Guaranteed by R. R. Bellamy.

VETERANS HEAR WILSON.

Governor Makes Appeal for Political Battle With Less Passion.

Atlantic City, N. J., Sept. 10.—A political battle with less personal passion and an end to the "war within the country by competition of classes," were the ideas which Governor Woodrow Wilson set forth tonight in a speech before the United Spanish War Veterans.

The Governor was enthusiastically cheered as he spoke on the steel pier to a large crowd. He declared the Spanish-American war had had its value in drawing the Nation together and destroying sectional feeling. Of the international politics of the country he made brief reference.

"The trouble with this country," said the Governor, "is that it has been blindly at war within itself by a competition of interests when this should have been a union of interests. The way not to cure it is to set one class against another. The way to cure it is to see that classes understand one another, that they all know that there is such a thing as a common interest which touches them all alike.

"I belong to a political party. For the time being I represent a political party; but I respect a political party merely as the means of banding men together for a service which, when they have done to the uttermost, they have forgotten parties in a common service. Not all men think alike and therefore men must group themselves according to their convictions and their thoughts, but the impulse back of every one of them must be the same, if it is indeed the impulse of patriotic conviction. And so I congratulate you upon having gone to school in at least one of the schools of patriotism.

"I wish that party battles could be fought with less personal passion and more passion for the common good. I am not interested in fighting persons, but I am interested in fighting things. I am interested in fighting bad tendencies, bad systems, things that lower all the levels of our political and economic morality; and I could wish that these things were visible and tangible so that we would not have to fight them through persons. I wish that they were of such a sort that you had only to hold them up to let the whole nation see how ugly they are and how undesirable. For we must get the vision before we are true with our politics, the same vision that the soldier gets; that it does not make any difference what part of the country he comes from it doesn't make any difference what he has; the point is that there is something that binds him to his fellows which he cannot break without committing treason. The thing he cannot break is the bond of common sympathy and of common understanding, that he is engaged in a cause and that only the cause can make him great."

Governor Wilson and Gen. Nelson A. Miles reviewed the parade of the veterans in the afternoon. As the veterans marched by the stand they sang the Houn' Dawg song of pre-convention popularity. Nearly 3,000 veterans were in line, marching through decorated streets and cheering crowds. Some of the marchers were overcome by heat and dropped out. Just as A. H. Cote, of Biddeford, Me., passed the reviewing stand and saluted, he dropped to the pavement. His comrades rushed to his side. An ambulance carried him to a hospital, where he was soon revived. Governor Wilson, who witnessed the incident, sent his secretary to the hospital to learn Mr. Cote's condition.

The Governor will leave early tomorrow for Jersey City, where he will review the Hudson county Democratic Club.

T. R. PLEASED WITH MAINE.

Says New Governor is Progressive—Speaks at Tacoma, Wash.

Tacoma, Wash., Sept. 10.—Colonel Theodore Roosevelt, who completed his journey across the continent today when he crossed the Cascade mountains and arrived at Puget Sound, expressed elation tonight at the final returns from the Maine election. He said it was a victory for the Progressives.

"We named for Governor of Maine the man the Progressives wanted," the colonel declared. "He wrote to me that he hoped we would not make a fight against him; that he was for me and that he would come out for us after the election. I have just received word that he carried the State and that in accordance with his promise he had come out for the Progressive National ticket."

Col. Roosevelt delivered an address in the stadium here tonight attacking the Democratic party and declaring it had made no fight against the bosses during the primary campaign. A Democratic victory in November would mean, he said, "the enthronement of the bosses, each in his own State."

He referred to conditions in New Jersey, saying the Democratic party there is struggling, apparently, to get rid of one boss, Mr. Smith, and apparently has gone to bed with another, Mr. Nugent."

J. J. ASTOR'S WILL.

Admitted to Probate for Second Time. Statement Filed.

New York, Sept. 10.—The will of John Jacob Astor, who perished when the Titanic went down, was admitted to probate today for the second time. The birth of a posthumous heir made the step necessary. With the second probating a statement was filed by Egerton L. Winthrop, Jr., the Astor baby's guardian, in effect that nothing contained in the probate should be considered an acceptance for the heir "of any provision that it may be claimed is made for him under the provisions of the will."

BURGLAR-PROOF STEEL.

New Invention That Defies the Most Scientific Operator.

New York, Sept. 10.—The day of the scientific safe burglar is about over. A kind of steel that can not be drilled, exploded or cut by the oxy-hydrogen flames, has been discovered by German chemists, according to Prof. Carl Duisberg, one of the chief foreign delegates to the International Chemists' Congress here, and it is a question of only a short time before the yeggmen will have to turn to new fields.

Dr. Duisberg brought with him two specimens of the steel. One was the ordinary kind and had been cut in five and a half minutes by the oxy-hydrogen flame, and in six minutes by the oxy acetylene flame. The second specimen was of the new alloy, which had withstood the heat of both the oxy-hydrogen and oxy-acetylene flames for one and a half hours.

A REGAL HEAD

How often do we hear or see this expression used in describing a beautiful woman!

Denude that head of its hair and instead of a queenly, royal bearing we have a fright. The hair makes all the difference. To have that glorious abundance of radiant hair which always crowns "a regal head," one should use Newbro's Herpicide.

Herpicide represents the last word in scientific hair culture. It destroys the dandruff germ, checks falling hair and corrects generally, diseases of the hair and scalp.

The positive results and its delicate but refreshing odor recommends Newbro's Herpicide to ladies of refinement everywhere.

KENNEDY MEMORIAL HOME.

Kinston People Give $2,500—Tobacco Sales—Other News Notes.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Kinston, N. C., Sept. 10.—At a mass meeting in the court house here, $2,500 was subscribed for the Lenoir county building to be erected at the Kennedy Memorial home, a branch of the Thomasville Baptist Orphanage, to be instituted near here, the ground for which was given by Capt. and Mrs. W. L. Kennedy, of Falling Creek. Mayor LaRoque, N. J. Rouse and Dr. J. M. Parrott addressed the meeting, which was largely attended. The mayor declared that the county should expend at least $25,000 in its gift of a dormitory to the institution. About $500 was added to the contribution of the mass meeting in a few hours, and the total now amounts to $3,044. The assemblage was one of the most enthusiastic ever known here in any public matter. A committee of 18 was appointed to solicit throughout the county, and the securing of a satisfactory fund is conceded to be an easy matter. The proposed dormitory is one of two with which the orphanage here will begin operations.

A million and a half pounds of tobacco were sold on the Kinston market last week, and the fancy prices prevailing since the opening of the season were maintained substantially. The rush of the staple to Eastern Carolina markets has been so great that some of the markets have had to be closed, and this was threatened of Wilson, Kinston, Rocky Mount and Greenville. However, after a conference by the warehousemen of those cities, it was decided not to do so, if the farmers would co-operate by letting up a little in marketing the product. It is said by leading tobacconists that the planters wil profit by this, as there is no likelihood of a slump in the prices if the tobacco is properly handled and marketed slowly. High officials of the leaf department of the Imperial Tobacco Company, who were here recently, were authority for this advice.

In the death of Mrs. Kate Brown, a well known lady of the city, Kinston lost one of its oldest citizens. Mrs. Brown was 87 years of age, and was born a few miles from here. She was a member of the Baptist church in this city, and the funeral was conducted by a minister of that denomination, the interment being in the family burying ground in the county. The aged woman was noted for her remarkable memory, and was devoted to literature. Mrs. Bettie Tull, a half-sister, of Baltimore, survives.

The coming of the theatrical season will mean nothing for Kinston lovers of the drama and opera, according to the announcement of Manager Loftin that the Kinston opera house would not be opened this Fall. The tax, Mr. Loftin says, is prohibitive, and he is determined that he will book no attractions this year. So, unless some enterprising spirit comes to the fore with the willingness to lease the place and face the finncial risk in its operation, local theatre-goers will have to find this sort of amusement in Goldsboro and Newbern.

CRAIG AT SANFORD.

Great Speech to Lee County Voters Yesterday—Much Enthusiasm.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Sanford, N. C., Sept. 10.—Hon. Locke Craig, the "orator of the Blue Ridge" and next Governor of North Carolina, opened the Democratic campaign here this morning at 11 o'clock. Many in the audience had not heard Mr. Craig for several years and some, not since the days of the joint debate between him and Judge J. C. Pritchard, when these two great men of the mountains stumped the State.

This morning Mr. Craig was in master form and as he stood before his audience, he had the self possession of the man who knows he is right and spoke with the authority of a leader of men. Mr. Craig has grown greater and still more mighty in the use of the sword of the tongue.

The next Governor was introduced by Hon. D. E. McIver, and the pleasing introduction was followed by a hearty applause as Mr. Craig came forward. A masterful speaker, with clear ringing voice, he handled the Republican record without gloves and yet with that gentleness of language and kindness of spirit that has made Locke Craig the gret man that he is. It was a markedly forceful address. The effect of the arguments of the next Governor will be felt in the coming days. Men who heard him went away feeling that they had listened to one that was worthy of being placed in the lead and one that they were willing to follow.

The audience was not so large as had been expected, but there was no lack of enthusiasm and no expression of dissatisfaction. It was a great speech by a great man and much appreciated by the citizens of Lee county who were so fortunate as to hear him.

QUIET IN COAL FIELDS.

Number of Mines in Martial Law Zone Resume Operations.

Charleston, W. Va., Sept. 10.—Quiet prevailed through the Kanawha coal fields today, despite the fact that a number of mines in the martial law zone resumed operations, although with a small force of men. The miners who returned to work did so at the same rate of wages that prevailed before the strike was called. J. H. Shanklin, a detective who has been acting as a mine guard, was given a sentence of one year in the penitentiary by the military court today, on the charge of having a loaded pistol and two black jacks in his possession. Archie Tyler was given a sentence of six months in the Mason county jail by the military commission, on the charge of having carried a loaded pistol.

RALEIGH BLIND TIGERS.

Ten Arrests in Capital City Last Evening—Detective Agency.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Raleigh, N. C., Sept. 10.—Five white men and five negroes were arrested this evening by the police on warrants sworn out by W. J. Roark, head of the Raleigh Detective Agency, charging them with being blind tigers. The white men are C. L. Finch, Roy Howard, G. R. King and Paul Taylor, each having places of business on Wilmington street and Bat Horton, on Exchange street. Most of the negroes also do business on Wilmington street. This is the first general movement against tigers here for several weeks.

STATE SANATORIUM.

Editor R. A. Deal Writes of Institution in Moore County.

State Sanatorium, Montrose, N. C., Sept. 6.—I have recently been frequently asked: "Where is the State Sanatorium and how does one get to it?" I will try to answer these questions, for every North Carolinian should know not only the answers to these questions, but should also learn of the good work being done here for tuberculosis sufferers, and the need of making further provisions for more extensive work.

The sanatorium is located in the southwestern corner of the new county of Hoke, formed from the western part of Cumberland county in 1911. It is located on the Aberdeen & Rockfish Railroad, about nine miles southeast of Aberdeen, Moore county, nine miles west of Raeford, county seat of Hoke county, and some 35 miles southwest of Fayetteville.

The Aberdeen & Rockfish Railway connects with the main line of the Seaboard Air Line at Aberdeen and with the main line of the Atlantic Coast Line at Hope Mills, a town some six miles southwest of Fayetteville. This railway is now being extended and will soon connect with the different roads of Fayetteville. There are four passenger trains passing the Sanatorium depot every day, except Sunday, two from Aberdeen and two from Hope Mills. So it is seen that the sanatorium is easily and conveniently accessible by rail.

It is often asked why this place was selected for the location of the State Sanatorium. No one who ever visits here will thereafter ask the question. One view of the place answers every such question. The sanatorium buildings are located on a sandy ridge of about 700 feet elevation. It is a great deal higher than the surrounding country in every direction. The ridge whereon the buildings are erected has all the evidences of having been thrown up in the dim ages of the past by active volcanic eruptions. Quantities of rock, cinders, lava formations and other volcanic productions are found all around the premises. It is said to be the highest elevation in this entire southeastern section.

The surrounding section of country is rather sparsely settled at present and the extensive pine forests in every direction are dotted only here and there with cultivated clearings which appear as white spots upon a vast background of dark green.

There is always an invigorating breeze in motion on "The Hill" bracing and exhilirating. There is in every breath the saline softness of the sea and the refreshing healing spices of the pines and other mingled forest perfumes. It's glorious, it's soothing, it's health-giving. Drinking in this glorious breeze and gazing out over the vast expanse of green forests till in the distance the undulating line of blue rises and lovingly touches the sky, one without effort fancies he is gazing upon the eternal "roll of the dark and deep blue ocean" and listening enchanted to the "ceaseless song of the sad sea waves."

"Ah! here I would forever stay,
Gaze and dream my soul away."

Dr. Kilgo, then president of Trinity College, now Bishop of the Southern Methodist church, visited this place soon after its selection for the location of the sanatorium. After looking over the place and gazing for a long while at the beautiful and bewitching expanse of scenery in every direction, he remarked to Dr. Brooks, then superintendent, who had selected the location:

"Doctor, this place is no accident. God created it for the very purpose for which you have chosen it, and His hand has guided you in its selection. It is grand; it is glorious."

This beautiful place belongs to the State of North Carolina and the doors of its sanatorium buildings are open to the tuberculosis sufferers. Come and share its benefits. R. A. DEAL.

AGAINST UNIFORM GAME LAWS.

So Vote the Game Commissioners at National Gathering.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

New York, Sept. 10.—Returning delegates from the biennial meeting of the National Association of Game Commissioners, recently held in Denver, arrived in this city today. They declare the convention to have been a most notable one in that nearly every State of the Union was officially represented, and the most advanced grounds were taken in reference to the preservation of wild life. Plans were laid for extending more absolute protection to the elk, antelope, prairie chicken, wild fowl and birds of plume, many of which are threatened with extinction.

Much surprise was expressed that the association should adopt resolutions giving it as their opinion that game laws uniform in character in all the States would be impracticable.

"On one point, however, we found all the commissioners a unit," said T. Gilbert Pearson, secretary of the National Association of Audubon Societies, "without a dissenting voice, they voted to urge all the States to adopt the New York Audubon law, which prohibits the sale of the feathers of wild birds for millinery purposes."

The game commissioners, through their permanent committees, will give much attention to this subject during the coming year, and will also urge the further establishment of State and National wild bird and animal preserves.

ENOCH ARDEN BRINGS FORTUNE.

Husband and Father Missing Ten Years Returns With $100,000.

Houghton, Mich., Sept. 10.—After an absence of 10 years, during which time his wife and eight children were left to their own resources, Barney McEnany has returned to Hurontown, near here, bringing with him $100,000. In consequence, the family is holding a joyous reunion.

McEnany is doing everything possible to make up for the years of privation his family suffered. He became prosperous through a mining venture in Canada.

A friend saw McEnany in Canada and informed his wife this being the first information she received during all the years of absence.

Statement of Progressive Party Expenditures Shows Deficit.

New York, Sept. 10.—The Progressive National party since it was formed in Chicago on July 1st, last, has received total contributions amounting to $55,199 and expended $55,233, according to Elon Hooker, the party's National treasurer.

Mr. Hooker's announcement today was in the form of a statement which also showed that unpaid bills up to September 7th amount to $3,561.57 and obligations for rent, printing and other contracts outstanding amount to $53,124.

Of the total contributions the New York headquarters received $53,273 and Chicago headquarters $1,872.

The New York expenditures were $51,682.33, and those of Chicago $3,551.08.

The two largest contributors were George W. Perkins and Frank A. Munsey, who gave $15,000 each. Geo. Moore, of New York, and Mrs. Chas. B. Woote, aunt of Gifford Pinchot, each gave $5000.

The $1,000 contributors were Wm. Wrigley, Jr., of Chicago; W. Emlen Roosevelt, George Roosevelt, George A. Sodet, of Chicago, and the family of Chas. H. Davis of South Yarmouth, Mass. Mrs. Emlem Roosevelt gave $300. George P. Porter, of Chicago, was credited with one contribution of $700 and another of $500.

Other contributors sent from $1 to $25, numbering several hundred. Accompanying the statement is an appeal from the National committee for additional funds.

Of the disbursements one of the larger items was $12,137, appropriated for railway transportation and speakers' expenses.

Funds sent to State committees of 23 States amounted to $16,906. For salaries of employes $7,647 has been paid and $5,000 has been advanced for expenses at the Chicago headquarters.

PALMETTO PRIMARIES.

Held Throughout State for Minor Offices—Popular Fund.

Columbia, Sept. 10.—In many of the counties in the State the second primary for legislators and county officers is being held. Those who failed to receive majorities two weeks ago are running against their nearest opponents. Two legislators and sheriff are being voted on here today.

The meeting scheduled for tomorrow of the sub-committee of the State Democratic executive committee to meet in the State house to investigate charges of fraud in the primary, has been postponed. The investigation may last up to the time of the general election, or the committee may at once find evidence of so much wholesale fraud as to warrant the throwing out of the primary.

The fund for conducting the investigation is now about $4,000. About a fourth of this has already been forawrded to the treasurer of the committee. Many newspapers have called for funds and these will be forwarded in a few days to the treasurer.

ACCIDENTALLY ELECTROCUTED.

Prisoner Causes Own Death on Turning Off Light.

Columbus, Ohio, Sept. 10.—Sitting on the edge of his bed in the Ohio penitentiary, George Steece, committed for three years, accidentally electrocuted himself last night when he attempted to turn off the electric light in his cell.

His bare feet came in contact with the railing of the bed of a prisoner in the bunk below him as he touched the brass of the electric light socket. He died instantly.

Prison authorities declare that only 120 volts could have passed through his body.

Wednesday, September 11, 1912.

Now is the time to get rid of the cattle tick.

"New York is worrying over her graft," says an exchange. It is time to worry over it.

The South requires about all the money in America to move its crops. The South produces.

President Taft continues to suffer with the gout. Probably he has been trying to kick off all his troubles.

Says a contemporary: "The women will count in this election." Yes, and all of them are figuring on a new Fall dress.

"Seek and ye shall find," seems to apply to a class of politicians who are everlastingly on the trail of first one office and then another.

Russia has a distinguished politician named Popoff. His name is probably the same as that of the Blowoff family who are now engaged in campaign work in this country.

A married man in Wilmington found a dainty lace handkerchief on the street but he wouldn't pick it up and carry it home. He says he has seen people hung on circumstantial evidence.

If you have not subscribed to The Star's Wilson and Marshall campaign fund do so at once. A dollar or more will go a long way to pay campaign expenses. It is now less than 60 days till the election.

Mr. Very Important usually walks with a strut, but with three parties in the field in this campaign every man becomes Highly Important. No man should fail to vote for Woodrow Wilson, for his support will be needed owing to possible complications.

The worst thing that could be said about the North Carolina Bull Moosers is that they tried to butt into a Republican convention and were not recognized. It is mighty hard to start life with such a party refusing to associate with it. The Bull Moosers could not even get in under false pretense.

The Pacific Mail liner "Manchuria," is due in San Francisco from Manila with 5,000,000 Manila cigars, aggregating more than 300 ship tons of tobacco. However, that ship load of cigars will not be enough to give one to half the number of men who are going to vote for Woodrow Wilson in this election.

The National Democratic Committee has set them all the pace by giving publicity to its campaign subscriptions. The subscriptions of $100 or more were mentioned and the names of the contributors were given. To follow suit along that line will greatly embarass the Roosevelt and Taft campaign managers.

Rather than send our own troops into Mexico it would be better to let the Mexican Federal troops pass through American territory so they can get at the rebels or robbers who are plundering and robbing natives, Americans and foreigners. Armies of assassins are not entitled to be considered as having belligerent rights.

Maine seems to have voted like all the experienced politicians expected her in a Presidential year. In speaking about that State prior to last Monday's election, Col. Geo. W. Harvey said in the North American Review that four years ago Maine gave Taft a plurality of 19,236, and "has never gone Democratic in a Presidential year."

COLONEL HARVEY ON THE SITUATION.

Colonel George Harvey, editor of the North American Review, in the September number of his magazine, discusses "The Political Situation" in a leading article that has attracted widespread attention. Colonel Harvey is one of the ablest of American writers and he adds to his learning a logical force and broadmindedness that appeals to the intelligent public. His article discussing the Presidential campaign and the possibilities and probabilities in the voting on the 5th of November, therefore, is attracting thoughtful attention everywhere.

Colonel Harvey explains that his article is purely expository, and that while it frankly depicts the present political conditions, no couse has been espoused and no candidate has been advocated either directly or inferentially. He gives us to understand, however, that "the performance of that duty (that of advocating a cause and a candidate), in the light of fuller information, is reserved for the forthcoming number of the Review."

Nevertheless, Colonel Harvey so accurately sets forth the facts and so lucidly draws conclusions that we should say from a close reading of his analysis of the situation that the Democratic cause and Woodrow Wilson's election as President loom largely in the writer's mind. It rather seems reasonable to presume that Colonel Harvey is preparing us for his positive advocacy of Woodrow Wilson in the October number of the Review.

Meanwhile, the Review article which we now have under consideration, in the editor's own words resolves to this conclusion:

"Wilson will probably be elected. If he carries New York he cannot be beaten."

"Neither Roosevelt nor Taft can win."

"A vote for Taft is a vote for Sherman."

"A vote for Roosevelt is a vote for Sherman."

"A vote for Wilson is a vote for Wilson."

The present, then, indicates that the possibilities for the election of the next President of the American Republic revolve about Woodrow Wilson, the Democratic nominee, as a direct figure in the electoral college, and James Schoolcraft Sherman, the Republican Vice Presidential candidate, who will be his opponent under peculiar circumstances that possibly may throw the election into the House and ultimately into the Senate. Colonel Harvey makes such an exposition of the conditions as to make a strong possibility if not a probability in the election complications that may come about if we are not careful how we throw our votes away. However, let us quote the premises upon which Colonel Harvey lays down his propositions, submits the facts of record, and draws his conclusions as a trained thinker:

"The nominal candidates for President of the United States are Woodrow Wilson, William H. Taft, and Theodore Roosevelt; the real candidates are Woodrow Wilson and James S. Sherman, with a remote possibility of Philander C. Knox becoming acting President pending a new election in 1913.

"This is the only conclusion deducible from a discerning analysis of the unprecedented political situation which has developed as a consequence of the formation of a third party under aggressive and popular leadership. History affords but two parallels of the present condition. In 1860 the Democratic party broke in twain, two candidates—Douglas and Breckinridge—were nominated, and the Republican nominee, Abraham Lincoln, was elected. It is this outcome of party disruption which induces the quite common opinion that Democratic success in the forthcoming election is virtually assured. The other similar instance, quite as striking in some respects as a counterpart, is that of 1824. William H. Crawford obtained the nomination from the Congressional caucus and became the Regular Republican candidate, but the caucus system had become so odious in the minds of the people that John Quincy Adams and Henry Clay did not hesitate to enter the lists in opposition. Andrew Jackson, as the Democratic nominee, waged the contest against the field and obtained a plurality, but not a majority, of both electoral and popular votes; whereupon the election of a President devolved upon the House of Representatives, and Adams was chosen. It is this example which impels consideration of a contingency which may arise from the circumstances now existing.

"Certain phases of the parallel are obvious. (1) The sole ascribed cause of the disruption of the Republican party is popular revolt against the convention system as practiced in full conformity with precedent, in Chicago. (2) Party labels, which signified little or nothing in 1824, are less clearly defined now than at any time during the past half century. Mr. Taft solicits the support of Democrats, as well as of Republicans, with peculiar earnestness; Mr. Wilson emphasizes his appeal to the whole people by ignoring to a marked degree his party platform and party machinery; and Mr. Roosevelt offers all forms of bait to all kinds of rag-tail-and bobtail. Their true appelations are clearly: Taft, Conservative; Wilson, Liberal; Roosevelt, Radical. (3) The contest has already narrowed, as in 1824, to the Democrat against the field. Now, as then, he is practically assured a pirality of votes in the Electoral College; and now, as then, his defeat can be accomplished only by withholding from him an actual majority over all, thus again imposing the election of a President upon the House of Representatives.

"The instinctive assumption is that this result could be achieved only through co-operation of the constituent elements of the opposition and that such co-operation cannot be compassed because of bitter antagonism of the one to the other. But may not this be the dictum of instinct rather than of reason? To weigh accurately the powers of variant influences one must first determine whether or not they have a source so nearly common as to render consolidation of efforts practicable, and so, perhaps, doubly or trebly effective. What, then, is the true situation in this special and notably vital instance?"

Colonel Harvey then takes up the discussion under five heads and presents views concerning the principles and theories for which Taft, Roosevelt and Wilson stand. He goes into the facts, with the indication that Woodrow Wilson will receive a majority of the Electoral College and be elected, but takes account of the possibility that Wilson may receive only a plurality in the Electoral College over Taft and Roosevelt. In that event no one would be elected President, thus the choice of a President would be thrown into the House. Assuming that the House would stand politically as at present, the Democrats would have a majority of members, but they could not elect a President for the reason that the vote would be cast by States and not individually. That being so, Rhode Island, or the State which may have only three to five Representatives, would have as much voice as North Carolina with her ten. The curious part about it is, that while the Democrats are now in the majority in the House, the Democrats control 22 States, the Republicans 22, and four States are equally divided between the two old parties.

As between the Republican and Democratic parties there would be no election. It would then devolve upon the Senate to elect a Vice President and if the Republicans control, as they now do nominally, they would elect Vice President Sherman who would become President for four years according to the Constitution. However, the Republicans in the Senate are divided into reactionaries and insurgents and they would never get together on Sherman for Vice President. If, then, the Senate failed to elect a Vice President, Secretary of State Philander C. Knox would become President by virtue of the Law of Succession passed by the 49th Congress.

Of course, it is quite likely that the House and Senate will not stand politically as they now are constituted, but with three candidates and three parties in the field such a complication may arise as would make either Sherman or possibly Knox, President.

Colonel Harvey makes the situation exceedingly interesting, but while the Democrats in North Carolina are fighting over a Senatorship, they will be surprised to note that he mentions North Carolina and Tennessee as doubtful States, with a leaning towards Roosevelt. Editor Harvey says: "With Roosevelt aggressively in the field, North Carolina and Tennessee surely will require attention, and the strong protection sentiment of Georgia, Louisiana and Alabama cannot be wholly ignored with prudence."

We do not think much worry may be felt over North Carolina or any other Southern State, except Tennessee, where the Democrats seem to be hopelessly divided. Nevertheless, it would be well for North Carolina Democrats not to be so confident that they will permit themselves to fall out over three men for Senator and endanger the Democratic electoral ticket in their State.

MAY CHALLENGE CRAIG.

It has been rumored that the Republican and Bull Moose nominee for Governor will challenge the Hon. Locke Craig, the Democratic nominee, for several joint debates in different portions of the State. The Greensboro News says it has been freely circulated that either Settle, the Republican nominee, or Walser, the Bull Moose nominee, or probably both, will invite Craig to meet them on the stump.

The News telegraphed to Mr. Craig to inquire what he would do in the event of a challenge from either Settle or Walser, and he replied that he had not received such a challenge, but if the gauntlet should be thrown down to him he would leave it to the State Democratic Committee. Mr. Craig wired: "I do not know what position the Democratic Executive Committee may take. If proposition comes to me, will let you hear from me."

We imagine such a discussion would be a waste of time for Mr. Craig's two opponents. There is nothing in it for them. They can make it more interesting to give us a discussion between Settle and Walser as a side show performance outside the main tent.

CURRENT COMMENT.

Some of the Kitchin papers think the new law requiring newspapers to mark all political articles for which pay is received as advertising will hit the Simmons' papers hard. For one, we think the law is a good one and hope it will be strictly enforced. It will be noticed that one Kitchin paper in this States does not carry any display advertising at all and would lead one to believe that it must be getting something out of matter that is being carried in its news columns. —Newbern Sun.

Spinners appear to be holding themselves in reserve while cotton prices rise and fall before their eyes without tempting them to action. Hubbard Bros. & Co., in noting this attitude, say: "We have here a buying power which has been dormant for six weeks waiting for a decline. What would happen if smaller crop estimates should become current?" Pressure of receipts from the bear viewpoint should prevent any further advance at this time, and scarcity of ocean freight room acts in a similar way. "Both are sound arguments, provided that a change of ideas regarding the crop does not occur at a time when more of the spindles of the world are at work at a profit than in any other year."—Wall Street Journal.

The misfortune of a Charlotte lady in supposedly contracting diphtheria on a sleeping car between this city and Boston may well serve as an occasion for calling attention to the measures against all possible infections which the Prussian State railways employ. It has tanks slightly exceeding the dimensions of the cars. A coach is rolled in on rails, the door is closed and hermetically sealed, a partial vacuum is produced, and steam pipes filled with boiling water complete the process. No insect life can survive. The low air pressure and the temperature combined do the work. To ensure the complete destruction of all bacteria or germs formalin in vapor form is then introduced. The process costs very little and occupies hardly any time. There is no reason why sleeping cars in the United States should not be so disinfected except that the public must usually kick before getting the service rendered it improved.—Charlotte Observer.

A PLUMED KNIGHT

Editor Star:—When in controversy, and your opponent begins to foam at the mouth and sputters forth irrelevant and illogical matter, commonsense would dictate that discretion is the better part of valor, in leaving the field to his sputterings.

A slander is an empty thing that runs itself to earth. Truth will always prevail. Southern men have taken care of Southern womanhood in the past and will do so in the future. If my riot record is the best guarantee of my repudiation of Collier's Weekly slander as "Simmons' Defender" says, then why sputter at me any more. If he has any crow to pick with any one let him address himself to Collier's Weekly.

I shall always regard highly Collier's propoganda for political betterment regardless of its sentiment on abstract issues, but it seems a very doubtful practice to my mind on the part of "Simmons' Defender" to have published verbatim, and to have exposed to the gaze of thousands, who had never seen or heard of it before, that slander on Southern Womanhood, and so make it serve a political expediency.

Simmons rode into office once before on "White Supremacy;" a second time when running he got office by posing as the champion of prohibition, and now, when every prop has been knocked from under him, by his self-made record, "Simmons' Defenders" in their eagerness for their own material welfare and at the expense of the welfare of the people, are attempting to push Simmons over the line again, by the detestable trick of dragging in revered Southern Womanhood.

Eliminating Collier's Weekly, which "Simmons' Defenders" have every reason to fear, we still have as opponents to Senator Simmons, the illustrious leaders of Democracy, to wit: William Jennings Bryan, who wrote the Baltimore platform and forced the the three arch corruptionists Ryan, Belmont and Murphy out of the management of the party; Zeb Vance, Gen. Julian S. Carr, ex-Governor Jarvis, Hon. Cyrus Watson, Ashley Horne, who has just given a monument to the brave Confederate women; Gov. Aycock, and such progressive papers, as Harpers Weekly, the Commoner, etc., who cannot be side tracked, and to make room for Senator Simmons' steam roller, "Simmons' Defender" says that he can judge the future only by the past, and the horse that balked once will balk again. I agree with him, and therefore, Senator Simmons ought to be eliminated from public life. It is commendable that Simmons got public appropriations, but the way he got them is execreable. Simmons gave his vote to the trust-owned Senators. These men favored him in return by a free reach into the pork barrel, public appropriations. The people, however, got the worst of the bargain, because they pay back to the trusts ten times over what they got in the way of appropriations, on everything they eat, drink and wear. Fine statesmanship this, an exchange of little graft for big graft. It is this sort of political legerdemain that has enriched the few at the expense of the many.

It is not true that Senator Simmons was enthusiastically endorsed by the State convention. One-third of that body refused to the last to lend themselves to an act of usurping the peoples' primary. It is commonly known that the State political machinery and as for that, the New Hanover County political machine is in the hands of Simmons. The Democratic platform and text books stand for a tariff for revenue only, while lumber journals and special interests have openly praised Simmons for protecting them in his tariff manipulation. There is a difference. Senator Simmons is not the minority leader of the House, this position is held by Senator Martin, of Virginia. Simmons is the minority leader of the Finance Committee, which position he obtained by the help and side-stepping of his trusted friend, Senator Bailey, the discredited and repudiated Senator of Texas.

Yes, we want Northern capital, but not the kind that puts the hoel of oppression on our people and debauches our politics. Senator Simmons' connection with corrupt Senator Lorimer, ejected from the U. S. Senate by his own Republican party and who was called the peer of any man in the Senate by Senator Simmons, ought to be sufficient grounds for the rejection of Simmons at the polls.

Respectfully,
FRANK HERBST.

MR. JAMES HOWARD SYKES

Magistrate Who Was Injured In Head By C. T. Croom Two Months Ago, Died of Disintegration Of the Brain

Mr. James Howard Sykes, for a number of years a magistrate of this county and at one time a member of the Democratic County Executive Committee, died at his home, No. 63 Delgado, at 4:30 o'clock yesterday morning, death being caused by disintegration of the brain following external injuries, as disclosed by an autopsy performed early yesterday afternoon. As a result of the autopsy Dr. C. D. Bell, the coroner, caused the issuance of a warrant charging murder against C. T. Croom, who has been under bond since July 14th, last, to answer a charge in Justice Harriss' court of assault with serious injury on Mr. Sykes, who never recovered sufficiently after the trouble to attend trial.

Croom had not been arrested up to midnight, although all the police and all other officers of the city and county were searching for him. He was in the city last night and talked to Justice Harriss over the telephone, but he could not be located by the officers. Croom told Justice Harriss that he would surrender to him this morning, but this did not satisfy the officers who continued to search for him through the night.

Yesterday morning soon after it became known down town that Mr. Sykes had died there was talk that death was the result of the blow he received when he was knocked down by Croom in front of the near-beer saloon of J. E. Holton, on Princess street, between Water and Front, early on the night of July 13th, last. Sheriff Cowan was among the first to hear the rumors and with his accustomed promptness in such matters he went to the James Walker Memorial Hospital, where Mr. Sykes was under treatment for a day or two prior to Monday when he went home, to begin an investigation. When Sheriff Cowan told Dr. Joseph Akerman, acting superintendent of the institution in the absence of Dr. J. W. Hooper, who was called away Monday night, of the rumors, the latter sent for Dr. C. D. Bell, the coroner, and made an affidavit of his suspicions of foul play in order that the case might be investigated. The affidavit was made about 12 o'clock and the first thing Dr. Bell did was to order an autopsy, which was performed early in the afternoon by Dr. W. D. MacMillan, county superintendent of health, assisted by Dr. Akerman. The physicians found disintegration of the brain at a point under the left ear and at a point over the forehead. Two places in the forehead were affected, each being about the size of a dollar. Oral report of the result of the autopsy was made by Dr. MacMillan to Dr. Bell, who then went before Justice Harriss and had the warrant for Croom for murder issued.

Dr. Bell summoned the following as a jury to inquire into the case: Messrs. A. T. McGee, Melvin Horne, W. H. Howe, W. G. James, H. F. Wilder, Julius Sternberger. They visited the Sykes home late in the afternoon and viewed the remains. The jury will meet at the Court House this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock for the purpose of examining witnesses. At this time a written report of the autopsy will be made.

Early in the night of July 13th last, Mr. Sykes, who is said to have been in a drunken condition, was struck several times by C. T. Croom, who was a clerk in a near-beer saloon conducted by J. E. Holton, on Princess street, between Water and Front. Mr. Sykes received a fracture of the skull at the base of the brain, just behind the left ear. It was claimed that Croom struck Mr. Sykes in the face and knocked him down and that in the fall the back of his head struck the hard pavement, fracturing the skull. Croom was arrested and placed under $250 bond for trial, but Mr. Sykes was never able to attend a hearing. Only July 15th, the condition of Mr. Sykes appeared to grow worse and as a matter of precaution Croom was taken into custody and was in charge of an officer over night. On the following day Mr. Sykes was pronounced by the attending physicians as being in no immediate danger, so Croom was released, the same bond of $250 being continued.

Mr. Sykes received treatment at both the James Walker Memorial Hospital and Harper's Sanitarium. A few days ago he went to the James Walker Memorial Hospital for treatment. He was very unruly and a times acted like a person bereft of his reason. Evidently growing worse he left the hospital Monday against the advice of the hospital surgeons and returned to his home, where he died early yesterday morning. He was treated at the hospital for rheumatism, it is stated.

For a number of years Mr. Sykes was a magistrate of New Hanover county and until recently he had an office in the city. At one time he was a member of the Democratic County Executive Committee and served as registrar at Delgado at several primaries and elections. He was 49 years old and is survived by his aged mother, of Columbus county, who yesterday celebrated her 82nd birthday anniversary; by his wife, two daughters, Mrs. Mattie Porter, and Miss Maggie Sykes, and one young son, Master Theodore Sykes, all of Delgado. They have the sympathy of friends in their bereavement. The body will be taken on the early train this morning to Northwest, where the funeral and interment will take place.

As soon as the result of the autopsy was made known and the warrant was issued, Sheriff Cowan and his deputies began a search for Croom. The police and officers in the county also joined in the search. It was reported in the afternoon that Croom probably left here a few days ago for Norfolk and a telegram was sent there asking that he be arrested if located. Early last night one of the deputies received a telephone message from a person purporting to be Croom stating that he desired to give himself up to Justice Harriss and asked that the justice meet him on a certain street corner at 8 o'clock. However, he changed his mind and before 8 o'clock he called up Justice Harriss and stated that he would give himself up this morning. Justice Harriss tried to find out where Croom was when he telephoned, but was unsuccessful. Notwithstanding the promise of the man claiming to be Croom to give himself up this morning, the officers continued their search for him last night.

The County Board of Elections, Chairman John S. McEachern, presiding, was again in session yesterday and completed the list of pollholders and registrars for the general election to be held on November 5th. Thus far the board has found it impossible to secure polling places in all the precincts, but this work will be completed a little later and the official call for the registration will be made. The registrars and pollholders appointed are as follows:

Cape Fear—W. S. Cooper, registrar; W. H. Shearin and T. A. Watson, judges.

As required by law, two of the election officers are of the Democratic faith and the third represents the minority party in the State. The county executive committee of the Democratic party will later meet and appoint the pollholders for the Senatorial primary, which will be conducted on the same date, November 6th. The official call, designating the polling places will be made in a few days.

BIDS OPENED YESTERDAY.

Proposals Received for Furnishing Police and Firemen's Uniforms.

Bids were opened at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon by Councilman B. C. Moore, in charge of the Department of Public Safety, for furnishing 50 to 75 Winter uniforms for the members of the police and fire departments. There were only two bidders, these being Mr. J. W. H. Fuchs and The A. David Company, both submitting several different grades of material.

Mr. Fuchs bid $20.50 a suit for 16 oz. Oswego serge made by the American Art Tailors; $16.10 a suit for 16 oz. Oswego serge; caps, $1.50, made by D. Klein & Bros., Philadelphia; $16.45, another grade of material made by the same company, and Oswego serge fire caps $2.50 each; $14.37 a suit for 16 oz. Oswego serge made by Abrahams & Co., of Philadelphia.

The proposals of The A. David Company were 16 oz. Oswego serge, $14.85 for coat and trousers, $2.50 for vest; 18 oz. Oswego serge coat and trousers, $15.85, vest $2.75; 16 oz. another grade, coat and trousers, $13.85, vest $2; 16 oz. of different grade, coat and trousers, $14.60, vest $2.25; still another grade, weight not given, coat and trousers, $13.85, vest $2.

Report of the bids will be submitted to Council this morning in regular weekly session and it is likely that the contract will be awarded at that time.

HOTEL PROMOTER HERE.

Mr. T. A. Green in City Looking After Title to Property.

Mr. T. A. Green, of Spartanburg, S. C., who with Mr. J. P. Sanders, of Greensboro, and Mr. W. C. Petty, of Charlotte, is interested in the proposed hotel to be erected at the southeast corner of Front and Walnut streets, is here for a few days. The purpose of his visit is understood to be to settle definitely the title to the property, which was recently acquired for the hotel site. The death of Mr. J. M. Jamieson, of Charlotte, who was largely interested in the proposition, caused a delay of some weeks in the plan to begin the erection of the hotel in order to comply with certain legal formalities in clearing the title. It is thought that the estate of Mr. Jamieson will not be interested in the hotel, but that the stock held by him will be purchased by the other three gentlemen interested. The promoters hope to begin the erection of the hotel in a short time.

NEGRO ACCIDENTALLY KILLED.

Seven-Year-Old Lad Playing With Pistol When It Went Off.

William Broady, the seven-year-old son of John Broady, colored, who lives at 308 Marseller street, accidentally shot and killed himself with a 32-calibre pistol at the home of his parents about 7 o'clock last night. The pistol, it appears, belonged to a roomer who worked for the Tidewater Power Company. The roomer was in a hurry to catch a street car and he told the lad to put up the pistol, which was lying out in the room, for him. Just after the roomer left the house a pistol shot was heard and rushing into the room the parents found the boy dead. The bullet had entered one of the eyes and penetrated the brain, causing instant death. Dr. C. D. Bell, the coroner, was summoned, but after making an investigation he did not deem an inquest necessary.

SEASON AT CAROLINA BEACH

Formally Closed on Sunday—Steamer to Go on Ways for Overhauling—Increased Business and No Accident.

The season at Carolina Beach, which was one of the most successful in its history, formally closed on Sunday and the Harper line of steamers to this popular resort, in a few days will go on their regular Winter schedule. With the gallant Capt. Harper still at the helm, Carolina Beach this year was even more popular than ever and the statistics of travel show that during the season 104,300 persons were handled between Wilmington and the beach and the beach and Wilmington, with not the slightest accident—not even so much as a mashed toe or a broken finger.

This record is remarkable ordinarily for steamer or railway travel, but it is nothing remarkable with Capt. Harper. Year in and year out for ever so long a time—it would be unjust to the "youthful" captain to say just how long—he has maintained this record on his splendid ship and his thousands of friends and patrons all over the State will be glad to know that he will be in charge again next year. The travel the season just ended showed an increase of just 17 per cent., but in the good will of the people and the kindly feeling toward Capt. Harper and his able assistants, the increase has been over 500 per cent.

The steamer Wilmington goes on the Wilmington Marine Railway this morning for her semi-annual overhauling, which will require about four days, after which time she will be in fine trim for the Winter's business. The steamer Ella will in the meantime handle the traffic between Fort Caswell, Southport and Wilmington, leaving Southport at 8 A. M. and leaving Wilmington at 2:30 P. M. There will be no 9:30 trip of the steamer Wilmington during these four days.

Plans are already well under way for many decided improvements at Carolina Beach next season. There has been a wonderful development down that way and still greater things are in prospect before the opening of the Summer of 1913.

THE RECORDER'S COURT.

Several Cases Heard in the County Tribunal Yesterday.

The Recorder had a large number of cases to claim his attention yesterday morning. John McIlhenny and Robt. Snead, well known young white men, were arraigned on a charge of gambling, the cases coming up from Justice Harriss' court. They entered a plea of submission through their attorney, A. G. Ricaud, Esq. The offense complained of is alleged to have been committed prior to the last term of Superior Court, when a number of other defendants were arrested on a similar charge, and Mr. Ricaud asked that the court deal with these cases in like manner as he did in the cases sent to him from the Superior Court, in which the defendants were allowed to go upon payment of the costs. The judgment of the court was that the defendants pay the costs in the cases.

Dan Williams, colored, was tried on a charge of "embezzlement by appropriating to his own use two sacks of sugar the property of F. E. Hashagen Company, Inc., said Williams being in the employ of the said F. E. Hashagen Company at the time and being entrusted with care of such property for delivery to one Dinos." Probable cause was found and the defendant was bound over to the next term of Superior Court, going to jail in default of bond.

Harold Fowle, white, was taxed the costs for striking W. K. Malzard, white, with his fists. Moses Bryant, colored, was found not guilty of assault with serious injury upon Dan Patterson, colored. Dandy Johnson, colored, was required to pay a fine of $5 and costs for violating the hitching ordinance. Herman Drew, a white youth, was found guilty of bathing in the Cape Fear river in the city limits in a nude state. Judgment was suspended upon payment of the costs.

It was expected that the cases against the women of the underworld, charged with vagrancy, would be tried yesterday morning, but they were again continued.

MR. BENJAMIN MOTTE DEAD

Well Known Citizen of Wilmington for Many Years Passes at Burgaw, N. C.—For Many Years With The Star.

Many friends in Wilmington learned yesterday afternoon with sincere sorrow of the death of Mr. Benjamin Motte, for many years a well known and highly esteemed citizen of Wilmington, which occurred at his home at Burgaw, N. C., yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock, after an illness of some time. The news was received here with surprise as few of Mr. Motte's friends knew that he was seriously ill. The following account of the death and a tribute to his memory is sent by a friend at Burgaw and is given in lieu of anything that might be written locally of this good citizen:

"Burgaw, N. C., Sept. 10.—Mr. Benjamin Motte is dead!

"This was the sorrowful message borne over Burgaw this afternoon and the hearts of young and old bowed in sorrow. It was known that he was sick; that he could never be well and strong again, but his death was not so soon expected and came as a complete surprise to many of his closest friends. When asked how he felt he would say that he was feeling all right. He did not know that heart dropsy was his trouble, but thought it asthma and seemed never to give up the hope of getting well.

"Many of those nearest him called him 'old Soldier', and truly no one possessed the qualities of a true and brave soldier more than he. He was never heard to complain even in his last days, but bore his suffering with a fortitude little less than marvelous.

"The writer has known Mr. Motte for the past 11 years and worked under him as 'devil' in The Star office when he was foreman there before the advent of the linotype. For the past three and a half years I have been daily associated with him in the office of the Pender Chronicle published here and during my entire acquaintance have never seen even the slightest suspicion of anything that is not characteristic of a high-toned, Southern Christian gentleman. He was always open and above board in his dealings. Flattery or hypocrisy had no place in his life and he was loyal and true to every friend. He was always very considerate of the feeling of others and friends were numbered by the thousands—in fact, he was the one man I would have picked out that had no enemies at all.

"Mr. Motte was born in Wilmington 62 years ago where he spent his life until about five years ago when he came to Burgaw and took charge of the mechanical end of the Pender Chronicle. He was with the Morning Star for over 40 years and helped to get out its first issue. For about 20 years he was foreman on the Star and was always a favorite with the printers' fraternity. When in his prime he was one of the fastest printers at the case in the State and together with several companions challenged the State to go on the stage in a type setting contest.

"Mr. Motte was of French descent, his ancestors settling at Fort Motte in South Carolina. They were among the wealthiest families in the province and one of the most aristocratic families in the South. Several years ago the Columbia State devoted much space to the early history of South Carolina and to the genealogy of the Motte family.

"Mr. Motte was married about 40 years ago to Miss Emily J. Lockey, of Wilmington. Their union was a most happy one. To them were born five sons who together with Mrs. Motte survive him. They are Mr. Arthur B. Motte, of Atlanta, Ga.; Mr. Clarence E. Motte, of Charlotte; Messrs. C. V. and R. S. Motte, of Wilmington, and Mr. L. L. Motte, of Burgaw; also one sister, Mrs. George Irving, of Wilmington. The funeral will take place tomorrow afternoon at 4:30 o'clock with burial in the Burgaw Burgaw truly mourns the loss of one of her very best citizens.

"Mr. Motte and his son, Mr. L. L. Motte, purchased the Pender Chronicle about six months ago and they had published the paper since that time. "L. McN."

COUNCIL MEETS TODAY

Statement as to Expenditures for Streets Will Be Submitted

The regular weekly meeting of the City Council will be held at 9:15 o'clock this morning. It is understood that the statement desired by Councilman B. C. Moore and Mr. R. A. Parsley relative to the expenditures of the street improvement fund will be submitted at the meeting this morning. The statement has been prepared by Capt. Thos. D. Meares, city clerk and treasurer, and Mr. F. F. Pillet, city engineer. Another matter to receive attention this morning is with regard to the disposal basin on the edge of the Cape Fear river in the southern part of the city. It is said that a person living about half a mile from the basin has made complaint of the odor emanating from the sanitary cans even after they have been washed. He will probably be present this morning to make his complaint to Council.

Will Locate In Wilmington

Mr. Herbert Maass, of Washington, D. C., arrived in the city yesterday morning for the purpose of looking over the real estate field in Wilmington with a view of opening up an office in this city. Wilmington was pointed out to him some time ago as a town of unlimited possibilities and one that was forging ahead at a rapid pace. The real estate field seemed particularly inviting. After some correspondence with the Chamber of Commerce he decided to make the trip to Wilmington and look over the field. He expressed himself as being highly pleased with the city and expects to locate here. He is accompanied by his wife and child.

Chamber of Commerce.

The regular monthly meeting of the Wilmington Chamber of Comerce will be held tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock. This is the first meeting of the Fall and a number of matters of importance are to come up for consideration. A large attendance of the members is desired.

THE JEWISH NEW YEAR

Rosh Hashanah Begins This Evening —Services at Temple of Israel

Rosh Hashanah or New Year, making the beginning of the Jewish A. M. 5673, will be ushered in this evening and will continue until tomorrow evening. Orthodox Israelites celebrate two days, adding the so-called "Second Day of the Diaspora."

It is one of the festivals ordained in the Bible, Leviticus XXIII 24 and 25, where appears: "In the seventh month, in the first day of the month, shall ye have a Sabbath, a memorial of blowing of trumpets, an holy convocation. Ye shall do no servile work therein." Ezra also refers to the day as one "holy to the Lord." (Nehmiah VIII:9). Accordingly, it is not a mere day of rejoicing. On the contrary, it is a Day of Memorial, a Day of Remembrance, reminding the observer of the duty of self-examination and self-judgment. It marks the passage of time and is a monition of the uncertain tenure of human life. It is therefore observed seriously and solemnly. It emphasizes the sense of divine guidance and, at the same time, of human responsibility. On it is rounded the bugle-call, arousing the conscience in the contemplation of misspent hours, and awakening the impulse to make the coming year more fruitful of noble and unselfish action.

In the Temple of Israel, corner of Fourth and Market streets, appropriate services will be held this evening, beginning at 6 o'clock, and tomorrow morning at 10:30 o'clock.

THE HOLLY TRIAL

Will Begin at Burgaw Tomorrow Week—Attorneys From Here

Messrs. William J. Bellamy, Brooke G. Empie and Herbert McClammy, of the Wilmington bar, returned last night from Burgaw, where they have been attending Pender county Superior Court, being presided over by Judge Frank Carter, of Asheville. No cases of special interest were tried yesterday and none of special importance are expected to come up during the week.

The Holly murder trial from this county, with which case the public is familiar, will be called next Saturday and the defendant will be taken to Burgaw perhaps on the morning train by Jailer Branch. At that time only a special venire of 400 people will be summoned and the sheriff will be given until Thursday of the following week to summons and return them. The trial of Holly will begin on Thursday and will continue until its completion. It will be recalled that the case has several times been tried in New Hanover and that it was recently transferred to Pender county.

Renting of Market Stalls

Elsewhere in today's paper Mayor Jos. D. Smith gives notice that the stalls, stores, fish and huckster tables at the public markets of the city will be rented under the usual plan at public auction on next Friday week, Sept. 20th.

The renting will begin at Fourth street market at 10 A. M., reaching Front street market about 11:30 o'clock.

The Men Who Succeed

as heads of large enterprises are men of great energy. Success, today, demands health. To all is to fail. It's utter folly for a man to endure a weak, run-down, half-alive condition when Electric Bitters will put him right on his feet in short order. "Four bottles did me more real good than any other medicine I ever took," writes Chas. B. Allen, Sylvania, Ga. "After years of suffering with rheumatism, liver trouble, stomach disorders, and deranged kidneys, I am again, thanks to Electric Bitters, sound and well." Try them. Only 50 cents at R. R. Bellamy's.

NEGRO SCHOOL AT ALMONT

Board of Education Will Contribute to Support of the School

A recent census shows that there are 58 negro children of school age living in the settlement at the fertilizer factories in and around Almont and the New Hanover County Board of Education has been requested and has agreed to pay $25 a month toward the salary of a teacher for six months. The factories have agreed to erect a building for the school. The balance of the amount that will be needed to pay the teacher will be raised among the colored people of that community. The school was opened last year, but the entire salary of the teacher was paid by the patrons and it worked right much of a hardship among some, hence the request to the Board of Education.

Mr. C. E. Smith has been elected a committeeman in District No. 12 to succeed Mr. Geo W. Trask, who recently removed to South Carolina. The report of the county superintendent of health, Dr. W. D. MacMillan, and the superintendent of public instruction, Prof. Washington Catlett, of their visit to the various school buildings in the county has been received by the board and the superintendent of public instruction has been instructed by the board to have all improvements made that are necessary to place the building in good sanitary condition.

Penrose, Archbold and Roosevelt no doubt are all waiting to see how many more letters Mr. Hearst has in his strong box. There sems to be a lively sense of impending trouble in all the charges and countercharges which the two factions of the Republican party are hurling at each other.

HELD FOR SUPERIOR COURT

Wm. A. Davis Given Preliminary Hearing Before Magistrate

Before Justice Harriss yesterday at noon, Wm. A. Davis, a well-known young man of this city, was given hearing on a charge of obtaining $[illegible] under false pretense from August Boecker, of this city. Probable cause was found and the defendant was bound over to the next term of Superior Court, giving bond in the sum of $100 for his appearance at that time.

Davis formerly was employed by the firm of Boecker & Wallace, of which the prosecutor, August Boecker, was a member. It is alleged that on May 13th, last, Davis approached Boecker for a loan of $500, saying that he had $740 coming to him between the 1st and 10th of August, but that he needed $500 at that time. Boecker accommodated Davis by giving a local bank two certified checks for $250 each and upon this collateral Davis secured a loan from the bank. The notes given by Davis were due on August 12th and on the 23rd of August Mr. Boecker had to pay the amount to the bank. Davis is alleged to have stated to Mr. Boecker at the time the money was secured that he would have practically all of the $740 due him as he only owed $10. Hon. John D. Bellamy appeared for the prosecution when the case was heard before the magistrate yesterday. Robt. Ruark, Esq., appeared for the defendant.

A case against G. W. Lewis, colored, charged with the embezzlement of $7 from Mr. Boecker, was dismissed at the cost of the prosecutor. Woodus Kellum, Esq., appeared for the negro.

FUNERAL OF MR. KING

Services Will Be Held This Afternoon From St. John's Church

The funeral of Mr. John Neilson King, son of the late Dr. J. Francis King, of this city, mention of whose death was made in yesterday's Star, will be held at 4 o'clock this afternoon from St. John's church and the interment will be in Oakdale cemetery.

News of the death of Mr. King was received by many relatives and friends with deep regret. Mr. King was the eldest son of Dr. King and his second wife, who was Miss Susan LeRoy Neilson, of New York, and was born in Wilmington in 1872. He removed North in 1879 after the death of his father and continued to reside there until a few years ago when declining health induced him to return to Wilmington to pass his remaining days. Mr. King is survived by a brother, Mr. Edwin Burruss King, of Warrenton, Va., two half sisters, Mrs. James H. Chadbourn and Mrs. Katie W. Parsley, of this city; a niece, Mrs. J. O. Carr, and a first cousin, ex-Mayor A. G. Ricaud, of this city. The bereaved will have the tenderest sympathy of a great many friends in their bereavement.

St. Thomas' Colored School

St. Thomas' Catholic School for colored children will open on Monday, Oct. 7th. The Russell property, 105 South Second street, was recently purchased and has been thoroughly renovated and will be used as a select school for colored children. Rev. Father Hayden, who is in charge of this work, will be assisted by a staff of competent teachers. The grades will range from the first to the 12th. One of the features introduced this year will be a thorough course in domestic science, embracing all the branches of housekeeping. The school was very successful last year and the prospects for its future seem very encouraging.

CLARENDON LODGE, K. OF P.

Uniform Rank Discussed at Last Night's Regular Convention

At the regular convention of Clarendon Lodge No. 2, Knights of Pythias, last night, a number of matters of importance and interest were discussed, among others being the Uniform Rank which was considered with so much favor by Stonewall Lodge Monday night. The matter was gone into very thoroughly under head of "good of the order" and 12 members of the lodge volunteered for the service. Later a joint meeting of the four lodges in Wilmington and Delgado will be held and it is hoped to get the Uniform Rank on a permanent basis.

It was also decided to inaugurate a campaign for new and desirable members. The Supreme Keeper of Records and Seal has the original Rathbone Bible and will shortly bring the book through the South and it is hoped to have a large class to take their first obligation upon this Bible. The plan is to hold two meetings in the State with the Supreme Keeper, one at Goldsboro for the east and one at Greensboro for the western part of the State. The candidates will be taken to these central points from the various districts and Clarendon Lodge hopes to have a very large class at Goldsboro.

Interesting talks were made during the evening by Dr. W. C. Galloway, Messrs. Geo. Warren, J. F. Littleton and others.

In the campaign for new members in the State there has been put into use by the Grand Lodge a very attractive little pamphlet, "A Leaflet of the Knights of Pythias," to salient features in a nutshell for the benefit of the public by State Deputy James D. Nutt and Dr. W. C. Galloway, both of Clarendon Lodge.

Next Tuesday night Clarendon Lodge will have work in the Page's degree and all Pythians will be cordially welcomed.

Cape Fear Academy.

The Cape Fear Academy, one of the best known institutions of learning in the eastern part of the State, will open for the Fall and Winter terms Monday, September 16th. Prof. Washington Catlett is principal of the school and has been for more than 30 years. The enrollment for the approaching term promises to be the largest in several years. Prof. Catlett has received requests for information relative to the school from parents in this city and neighboring points.

Mr. Frank Ross Bereaved.

Friends of Mr. Frank M. Ross, manager of the Siwasa grocery, will tenderly sympathize with him in the death of his sister, which occurred at her home in Charlotte at 6 o'clock Monday evening. Mr. Ross left Monday night in response to a telegram informing him of the serious illness of his sister, who died before he reached her bedside. The funeral was conducted at 4:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

WILSON THE MAN

Democracy's Candidate Stands Serene And Unassailed

Chicago, Sept. 10.—In the midst of all the charges and countercharges flying back and forth between the two factions of the Republican party, Woodrow Wilson stands serene and unassailed. He has no past that is not creditable to him. Every year of his life has been lived in such a way that now when he stands on the heights no man can say a word against him or cast aspersions upon his record or impugn his motives. There is no question in the minds of the American people as to Wilson's honor and truthfulness. No taint of Steel Trust or Standard Oil corruption funds has tarnished his name or involved him in heated exchanges with members of his party of the short and ugly word. No man has called him a liar and he has not had occasion to give the lie to anyone. Wilson stands out in this campaign as the one man whose record is unassailable and whose programme meets the approval of the entire body of his own party.

HIGH PRICES FOR PEARLS.

Past Season in the Fisheries Has Been Very Unsuccessful.

New York, Sept. 10.—Advices received in Maiden Lane indicate that the past season in the pearl fisheries has been almost completely unsuccessful. The result will probably be an advance of 20 to 25 per cent. in the prices of pearls.

Dealers insist that fine pearls are very scarce in both the American and the foreign markets. They have risen from 10 to 30 per cent. in the last few months.

TWO MOTORCYCLISTS KILLED.

Machine, Going Fast, Collides With Truck in New York.

New York, Sept. 10.—Two men riding on a single motorcycle were killed in a collision early today between their machine and a truck at a downtown corner.

The dead men could not be identified. Both received fractured skulls. The police asserted that the truck driver was in no way to blame for the accident as the cyclists were speeding recklessly.

WRIGHTSVILLE BEACH

The regular mid-week dance will be given at Lumina this evening and it is expected that a large number will go down from the city.

Miss Robah Kerner and daughter, Miss May Kerner, of Winston-Salem, who have been spending some time at Northrop Cottage, spent yesterday at Southport and expect to leave today for their home.

Among the arrivals yesterday at the Oceanic Hotel were C. M. Thompson, W. H. Mendenhall, Lexington; John B. Garratt, Landen C. Jones, Florence, S. C.; D. E. Harllee, Greensboro; John Thomas Reid, Norfolk.

Mr. A. N. Barnett, who has been chief clerk at the Oceanic Hotel for the past several weeks, will leave this afternoon for his home in Atlanta. Mr. Barnett is a genial and ever obliging young man and during his stay at the resort he made many warm friends, who hope that he will return again next season.

Mr. Wm. E. Pennington, the popular chief clerk at the Seashore Hotel, has returned to his home at Tarboro. Mr. Pennington has been chief clerk at the hotel for a number of years and it is extremely doubtful if a more popular man with the public ever filled a position of the kind anywhere. Without "Bill" Pennington the Seashore Hotel would not seem the same place.

A souvenir dance was given last night at Lumina and it proved one of the most enjoyable affairs of the kind given at the popular pavilion this season. The attendance was large, there being several hundred present from the city in addition to the visitors and cottagers on the beach. A handsome brooch was given away among the other attractive souvenirs of the occasion.

TWENTY-EIGHT INJURED.

But None Killed in Wreck on Nickel Plate Railroad.

Erie, Pa., Sept. 10.—Twenty-eight persons were seriously injured in the wreck of eastbound train No. 6, on the Nickel Plate Railroad, derailed by a spread rail at Sagen Road, near here, this afternoon. Probably a score more, slightly injured, were put up at Erie hotels. A private car carrying W. G. Coniff, president of the road, W. J. Watterson, superintendent of the division, and President Dunston, of the Fort Wayne & Western Railroad, which was attached to the train, escaped injury.

While earlier in the day it was feared that several dead would be found in the wreckage, when the debris had been pretty well cleared away tonight, it was reasonably certain that none had been killed.

A spread rail derailed the tender of the engine and threw all but one of the passenger cars into an eight foot ditch.

Detectives were hurried to the wreck to guard a shipment of silver carried by the train.

STORM WARNINGS.

Depression in Florida Moves Northward—Unsettled Today.

Jacksonville, Fla., Sept. 10.—The shallow depression which has been central in the Gulf for several days, moved slowly northward during the last twenty-four hours, and at 7 o'clock tonight was central, apparently in the vicinity of St. Marks, Fla., showing but little change since this morning. High winds prevail over Northern Florida and the coast of Georgia, attended by heavy rains over a considerable portion of the South Atlantic States. There is, however, very little rainfall in South Florida and on the East Coast.

Conditions favor unsettled weather Wednesday, probably with an occasional dash of rain, attended by brisk to high southerly winds.

Southeast storm warnings were ordered at this station at noon and a wind velocity of 35 to 36 miles an hour occurred during the day.

CLOSE EVIDENCE TODAY

Claude Testifies He Used Victor's Gun —Latter Was Unarmed

Wytheville, Va., Sept. 10.—That the weapon he used at the time of the Hillsville Court House murders was one he had taken from his brother, Victor, and that consequently Victor was unarmed when the shooting took place, was the testimony today of Claude Allen, who already has been convicted of first degree murder for the part he played in the tragedy.

Seventeen other witnesses were examined by the defense today and it is expected that the evidence will be closed tomorrow. Seven witnesses testified as to the good reputation enjoyed by the defendant, while the others were used to impeach the testimony of Clerk Dexter Goad, one of the chief witnesses for the prosecution.

TAINTED BALLOTS IN GEORGIA.

Vote Buying and Selling Cause Indictments at Madison.

Madison, Ga., Sept. 10.—Indictments charging 12 men with buying and selling votes in the recent county primary were returned by the Morgan county grand jury late yesterday afternoon, and many aditional indictments on the same charge are expected before the jury formally adjourns.

The indictments resulted from a quiet and thorough investigation of several days following charges by defeated candidates that successful contestants pooled their finances and bought votes throughout the county. Names of those indicted were not made public.

CARD OF THANKS

To those friends who were so kind during the illness and death of our brother, Mr. W. H. Batson, we return sincere and grateful thanks and assure them that their acts and words of thoughtfulness will never be forgotten. THE FAMILY.

FUNERAL NOTICE

KING—The funeral services of the late JOHN NEILSON KING will take place this (Wednesday) afternoon, at 4 o'clock at St. John's church.

LOCAL DOTS.

—Austin Permenter, the young white man arrested here Monday on information from Conway, S. C., that he was wanted there on a charge of seduction, was taken back to Conway on the early train yesterday morning by Sheriff B. J. Sessoms, of Horry county, S. C., who arrived here on the late train Monday night.

—Charged with abandonment and non-support, J. T. Capps, who lives on Wrightsville Sound, was arrested yesterday afternoon by Deputy Sheriff A. L. Kelly. He was brought to the city and taken before Justice Harriss, who issued the warrant, and a short time later Capps and his wife "made up" and the case was dismissed. Capps purchased a quantity of groceries and he and his wife returned to their home.

—Local Pythians have revived the matter of forming a military department from the members of the several lodges in the city. The matter was discussed at the regular meeting of Stonewall Lodge Monday night and the members semed to be favorable to the proposition. The proposition to form a large class of candidates for initiation to send to the special meeting or rally to be held in November was also discussed.

RESULT IN MAINE

Republicans Elect Governor, Three Congressmen and Senator

Portland, Maine, Sept. 10.—Maine emerged from the State election of yesterday, in which the Republicans were victorious, to find herself facing another political contest, with five parties instead of four in the race for the six Presidential electoral votes.

The Progressive party, whose leaders had joined with the Republicans in yesterday's election, came into being today after the announcement of the election of Wm. T. Haines, for Governor, three out of four Representatives to Congress and a majority of the Legislature which will choose a United States Senator. Former Congressman Edwin C. Burleigh received the Republican preferential vote for Senator at the recent primaries.

Revised returns today for Governor with only five small plantations missing, which in 1910 cast 56 Republican votes and 44 Democratic, give:

Haines, Republican, 70,880.

Plainsted, Democrat, 67,848; Haines' plurality 3032.

Plaisted's plurality in 1910 was 8,660.

Complete official Legislative returns show there will be 23 Republicans to eight Democrats in the Senate and 79 Republicans and 72 Democrats in the House, giving the Republicans 102 on a joint ballot and the Democrats 80.

Interest today centered in the action of the Progressive leaders. The Republicans and Democrats have already nominated their Presidential electors. The Progressives, Prohobitionists and Socialists, not being recognized officially, will make their nomination of electors by petition. These papers began to be circulated today.

VANCE STATUE

Inspected Yesterday by Governor and Council of State

(Special Star Telegram.)

Raleigh, N. C., Sept. 10.—Governor Kitchin and other State officers constituting the Council of State, today inspected the clay model for the statue of Senator Zebulon Vance, made by Mr. Ulrie Stonewall Jackson Dunbar for the North Carolina section of the Statuary Hall, Washington, D. C. The model is being very highly commended and is to remain here several weeks in the State Senate chamber for criticism before the final model is chosen for this statue at the National capitol.

BEST OYSTERS IN YEARS

Bivalves are Fat and Plentiful on Connecticut Coast

New Haven, Conn., Sept. 10.—The American oyster crop for this season promises to be one of the finest in many years. Reports received here indicate that the oysters are fatter and more plentiful than in a long time.

Already large quantities are being packed and shipped, not only to the far West, but even to Hawaii, Japan and China. European shipments will begin about October 1st, by which time the oyster will be at its best.

..Theatrical..

"Mutt and Jeff" and their entire family of fun makers, singers and dancers come to the Academy for matinee and night Saturday. "Mutt and Jeff" holds the record as the most successful cartoon play in theatrical history.

Not alone that, but it is now acknowledged the financial success of the season, which means practically the most meritorious musical production of the year. The critics have said it—the people are saying it all over the country—box office records prove it.

The matinee will be especially popular with ladies and children. Prices for the matinee will be of the popular price class, reserved seats being but 50 and 75 cents. A child will be admitted to any part of the theatre for 25 cents. Seats for both matinee and night will be on sale at Plummer's Friday morning.

Field's Date is Thursday, Sept. 19th.

The date of the appearance of Al. G. Field's Greater Minstrels has been changed to Thursday, September 19th, which will be Thursday of next week. Field's original date was next Monday, September 16th, and this date had been announced, but it has now been changed. Lovers of the Field show, and they number hundreds in Wilmington, will hail the coming of the popular minstrels with great delight and pack the Academy of Music, as usual. The Field show this year is even bigger than before and even more costly. It is, always the most elaborate of all minstrel companies and a mammoth, brilliant production can always be confidently expected.

Fine Bill at The Grand

The Grand Theatre will offer today another splendid bill in the moveys, headed by a splendid Selig, "Sergeant Byrne," a story dealing with the beloved Royal Northwest Mounted Police written by Lanier Bartlett and Colin Campbell and produced by the latter.

A young rancher by the name of Byrne is in love with Jesse Long. A city chap named Harvey is also courting her. The girl awaits Byrne with the engagement ring but on the way he indulges too strongly in drink, gets into a card game and loses the ring and all that he has. On his arrival at Jessie's home, she learns the truth and turns to Harvey. The rest is a fight between strong hearts for the hand of the girl they love, Harvey wins, degenerates into a worthless vagabond and finally dies, while Byrne comes to claim his own.

The other feature picture for today is "Bond of Music," a Vitagraph that is sweetly told. The hero of the story is a young lieutenant in the German army. There is a court martial, a sentence to death and a timely rescue. It is all spectacularly pretty and is bound to prove most attractive. In addition to these two the usual third film is offered and it is all for the small sum of five cents to any part of the house at any time, day or night. All roads lead to the Grand.

The Bijou

While all without may have been dismal yesterday, so far as the weather was concerned, all was bright and gay within the popular Bijou, and large audiences were on hand to enjoy the occasion to the fullest. It is because amusement lovers know that both swell entertainment and solid comfort can be found at the Bijou is why the weather never keeps back the crowds. The Bijou is ever delightfully comfortable, no matter the status of the weather, and the people of Wilmington know this and are duly and heartily appreciative. They are also appreciative of the small price of admission—5 cents, afternoon or night.

So today, no matter the complexion of the weather, a big time may be expected at the Bijou. One of the best programmes yet presented is on tap. It is what may well be termed a thoroughly original bill and one of most novel character.

A real Indian drama, one with its plot and action strictly among the noble Red Men, is one of today's stars. It is "The Penalty Paid" and it deals with warring tribes of Indians in the days of old. A hand-to-hand battel between two powerful braves is one of the exciting features.

"An Equinine Hero" is another big novelty for today. It is a Western story of stirring scenes and beautiful scenery. It is remarkable for the fact that one of the leading characters is an educated horse. It is this equinine hero that walks a log, spanning an abyss and with his teeth unties the ropes that bind the maiden captive. It is a great piece of moving picture work and will prove decidedly exceptional.

The other films at the Bijou today are just as swell and just as unique.

$30,000,000 INVOLVED IN SUIT

Descendants of Harmony Society's Founder Seek Property

Jersey City, Sept. 10.—Descendants of George Rapp, founder of the Harmony Society, at Economy, Pa., are meeting here this week. Property said to aggregate $30,000,000 in value, once owned by the society is in the possession of John S. Duss and his wife, of Economy, who are defendants in a suit brought by the heirs.

The last survivor of the original Harmony Society died six years ago. The claimants say the property should have reverted, when the last survivor died, to the heirs of the founder from whose original investments the property grew.

There are more than 100 persons who call themselves heir to the property.

DEMAND INCREASED WAGES.

Pennsylvania Railroad Telegraphers Likely to Strike.

Philadelphia, Sept. 10.—Correspondence made public by the Pennsylvania Railroad Company here shows that its telegraph operators east of Pittsburg and Erie have voted to strike unless demands for increased pay and other conditions are granted. The men want an increase in wages of 10 per cent. two days off a month and a uniform schedule of working conditions.

Officials of the Order of Telegraphers claim that 2,800 operators employed on the lines east of Pittsburg are members of the organization. It is believed further communication will be exchanged before drastic action is taken.

WIRELESS REGULATIONS.

International Marine Conference to be Held at Paris.

New York, Sept. 10.— It is now understood that the international marine conference to consider further regulations for wireless telegraphy and the protection of travelers at sea will meet in Paris in October or November.

It had previously been believed that the conference would meet at The Hague. President Taft has been the principal mover for the conference.

HIGH COST OF LIVING

Most Serious Problem of Today. Due Largely to Sickness. Read This Letter.

Clifton Mills, Ky.—That the high cost of living is due largely to sickness, especially among the women folk, no one can doubt, but in the following letter from Mrs. Sylvania Woods, of this place, it is brought more forcibly home to us. "Before I began to take Cardui, the woman's tonic, my back and head would hurt so bad, day and night, I thought the pain would kill me. I was unable to attend to any of my household duties.

I had only taken three bottles of Cardui, when I began to feel like a new woman. Within a few months I gained 35 pounds, and now, I not only do all my own housework and washing, but most of the time, run a big water mill, while my husband runs the farm.

I wish every suffering woman would give Cardui a trial, for I am sure it would help them, as it has me."

At an expense of $3.00, for three bottles of Cardui, Mrs. Woods regained her health, and is now able to attend to the numerous duties, which, formerly, she either had to hire done, or neglect, thus increasing her cost of living.

Lady reader are you suffering from any of the ailments so common to your sex? Wouldn't it be worth a few dollars to you to feel well enough to look after your daily work?

Try Cardui.

COTTON MARKET IRREGULAR

After Early Advance on Favorable Weather Reports, Market Became Weak—Closed at Decline of 10 to 21 Points.

New York, Sept. 10.—The cotton market was somewhat irregular today, but after an early advance on unfavorable weather reports, became weak and unsettled, with the close easy at a net decline of from 10 to 21 points.

The opening was steady, at an advance of four points to a decline of three points, near months being relatively steady in sympathy with a rally in Liverpool. The general list sold off to a net loss of from 8 to 11 points right after the call, under renewal of yesterday's selling movement, which was said to be encouraged by reports of a slack demand from spinners and expectations of rapidly increasing receipts. This decline carried December contracts off to 11.44, or about 42 points under the high price of yesterday morning and naturally attracted considerable realizing on the part of recent sellers. The market consequently steadied and during the late forenoon sold up rather sharply on apprehensions that the gulf storm would carry heavy rains into Georgia and the Carolinas, and predictions of a bullish weekly weather report. This report was considered unfavorable as to conditions in many sections, but its publication was not followed by any material broadening of demand, and after prices had shown a net gain of from three to six points shortly after midday, the market turned easier.

Realizing by early buyers seemed the chief pressure at first, but as prices worked lower, local bears became more active, while there also appeared to be a good deal of Southern selling, particularly from New Orleans and Memphis. Reports that the South was hedging against new crops probably added to the confidence of sellers, and the market closed at practically the lowest point of the day, or approximately half a cent under the high level of Monday morning.

Receipts, 50,577, against 32,795 last week and 58,521 last year. Today's receipts, at New Orleans, 467, against 626 last year; at Houston, 24,921, against 22,663 last year, and at Galveston, 39,082 bales, against 35,892 last year.

Spot closed quiet. Middling uplands, 11.65; middling gulf, 11.90; sales, 8 bales.

Futures closed easy.

STOCK MARKET IS STAGNANT

Average Level of Prices Higher at Opening, But in the Final Hour Prices Reached Their Lowest Point.

New York, Sept. 10.—Very little remained today of the strength and animation which attended yesterday's late market on publication of the brilliant crop report. The average level was higher at the outset, but in the early afternoon dullness gave way to utter stagnation

In the final hour, when call money rose to 4¾ per cent., the highest of the year, prices fell to the lowest of the day, but without any increase of activity.

On the surface there were no indications of pressure. Sentiment, if anything, seemed mildly optimistic in the early dealings, this change probably resulting from the glowing agricultural prospects.

Other news o fthe day also offered ground for encouragement, especially the unfilled tonnage figures of the United States Steel Corporation for August, which showed an increase of 206,000 tons over the preceding month and established a new record.

None of the speculative favorites moved more than fractionally until in the final dealings, all wider fluctuations being made by the various specialties. These issues registered maximum advances of 2 to 3½ points, with a 15 point rise in General Chemical.

The local bond market shaded after early steadiness. Total sales, par value, $1,425,000. Panama 3s advanced ¼ per cent. on call. Sales, 280,100 shares, including Atlantic Coast Line, 200; Chesapeake and Ohio, 500; Louisville and Nashville, 400; Norfolk and Western, 100; Seaboard Air Line, preferred, 400; Southern, 1,700; do. preferred, 500; United States Steel, 33,500; Virginia-Carolina Chemical, 700; Reading 45,300.

TORRENTIAL RAINS.

Precipitation at Tampa 14.06 Inches. Much Damage—Warnings.

Tampa, Fla., Sept. 10.—Damage estimated at several hundred thousand dollars already has resulted from the torrential rains which have fallen in this section since last Saturday. The damage here is estimated at $75,000 daily. The precipitation in Tampa since noon Saturday is 14.06 inches, breaking all records for 20 years.

Tampa suburbs are flooded and high tides continue sweeping over the sea walls. Suburban street car traffic has been totally abandoned. 2,000 telephones are out of commission and fully 30 houses have been undermined.

Rains continued today. The steamer Brunswick, from New Orleans, encountered a terrific gale 100 miles out and reported seeing many sailing vessels in distress. All shipping is tied up in the local harbor.

Washington, Sept. 10.—The disturbance which caused the heavy rainfall at Tampa, officially given by the Weather Bureau here at 12.60 inches in the last three days, is moving slowly northeastward, its center now being directly east of the mouth of the Apalachicola river. It has caused brisk winds and heavy rains over the Florida peninsula and on the Georgia and South Carolina coasts. The Weather Bureau has ordered storm warnings displayed on the Atlantic coast from Jacksonville to Wilmington.

Gov. Wilson has hit the nail squarely on the head in his treatment of the labor problem in his Buffalo speech. With characteristic thoroughness the next President has handled the subject of the minimum wage in such a way as to leave nothing further to be said. He has settled the question for all time

Hasha Probably Paralyzed, Says Physician Treating Him

Newark, N. J., Sept. 10.—That the motorcycle accident on the Valisburg motordrome on Sunday, which has thus far resulted in seven deaths, was due to a sudden attack of paralysis suffered by Rider Hasha, is the opinion of Dr. Thomas Pascual.

He declares that Hasha probably became suddenly blind and helpless from a paralytic condition resulting from a sudden hemorrhage of the brain.

The physician had been treating Hasha for an ailment which at times had seriously affected his eyes. This was due to pressure of blood upon his brain during his speed demonstrations.

HAVING clothes made to measure has so great a charm about it for some men that a tape line and a few figures on a paper makes them think they're getting something extra good. They give up their money cheerfully, without really knowing whether the clothes they buy are all-wool and well-tailored or not.

As a matter of fact, you can buy clothes ready-made by

that are better, in fabrics, tailoring, style, and fit, than any but the finest, highest priced custom tailoring; they compare favorably with even that.

We sell these goods because they're the best made.

Our $20 and $22 suits are better than any you'll get made to measure for $35. If you pay less for made-to-measure clothes we're sorry for you.

We make Clothes to Order from $15.00 up, for those who want.

AMERICAN BANKERS MEET AT DETROIT

issued by a government or by a government-owned institution always lacks the essential element of elasticity. Its amount is determined by the government's needs and fixed by statutory provisions which cannot be speedily altered to meet changing conditions. The government issues money and may and should in the interest of the public regulate the agency or agencies which may, in accordance with certain general principles that it establishes, issue credit redeemable in lawful money. It is for these reasons that the issuance of bank note currency should be intrusted to the federation of banks, under regulations to be prescribed by statute and strict government supervision through its own officers.

"With a co-operative federation of our banks established, having the necessary powers to protect our general credit conditions, banking panics and money stringencies would no longer plague us. Each independent bank would know that it could safely extend at some price such assistance as might be required to any solvent business man, because, it would know that if the occasion arose, it could rediscount the commercial paper of its solvent customer at a branch of the federation banks. Thus the benefits of such an organization would reach every man, no matter in what business or calling he might be engaged.

"We would have a safe custodian for the reserves of the banks. They would be mobilized and could be put to effective use whenever needed. The amount of currency would be absolutely measured and determined by business requirements. The banks would through co-operation be enabled to utilize our enormous banking power and wealth.

"A plan to accomplish these purposes has been before the country for nearly a year. It is contained in the unanimous report made to Congress by the National Monetary Commission recommending the establishment of the National Reserve Association.

"Some objections have been urged to the plan of the proposed organization and the machinery provided for its operation. If there are defects in the plan, they should be specifically pointed out and suggestions offered for their correction. More denunciation of proposed measures without offering some substitute is not at all helpful. It is believed that the more the plan of the Monetary Commission is studied and analyzed, the more it will grow in favor. But whether it does or not the problem of monetary reform remains with us. A solution for it must be found. Shall we say that we are unequal to the task? Shall it be said that this powerful nation alone of all the nations of the earth is unable to devise a banking system suited to its needs?

"We will be unworthy of our inheritance if we fail in this effort. The difficulties to be overcome are insignificant compared to those that confronted the fathers in laying the foundation of our National Union. Surely the time cannot be far distant when the intelligence and the patriotism of the American people will solve this problem. It is to that intelligence and patriotism that we must appeal and upon which we can rely with confidence."

ANTI-TOXIN FOR MEASLES.

Scientists at Work on Preventative for Dreaded Malady.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 10.—With every hope of success, the scientists of the United States Hygienic Laboratory are now engaged in seeking an anti-toxin or preventative of measles, which annually cleams a heavy toll among infants and children in the United States. The research is based on the success of a recent experiment with monkeys conducted by Dr. John F. Anderson and Dr. Joseph Goldberg, by which the scientists for the first time in medical history actually inoculated a small colony of animals with the disease. Taking this as a basis, the anti-toxin is to be developed, although the measles germ is so minute as to be indiscoverable under the most powerful microscope.

The medical profession is watching the experiments with great interest. With the exception of diphtheria and croup, measles is the most dangerous and deadly scourge to youth. According to the census bureau figures taken from the "registered area" in the United States, in which approximately half the population lives, the number of deaths among children in 1910 from diphtheria and croup combined was 11,512, while measles exacted a toll of 6,503 or 12.3 lives in every 100,000 persons.

SELECT TEST FARMS

Agriculture Committee Meets Today—Charter for Troy Enterprise

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Raleigh, N. C., Sept. 10. — The Test Farm committee of the State Board of Agriculture will be in session Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of this week for the double purpose of finally settling the question of the location of the bright tobacco belt test farm and also for a special trip into Eastern Carolina to investigate as to the most desirable location of a proposed test farm in the black soil or drained land belts. The board will visit Washington, Belhaven, Mackey's Ferry and other East Carolina sections. The committee consists of R. W. Scott, A. T. McCallum, R. Kerney and William Bledsoe. Commissioner W. A. Graham and State Chemist B. W. Kilgore also met with the committee. One or another of farms offered near Kernersville, Reidsville, Durham and Oxford will be selected by the committee for the tobacco test farm. The analysis of the soils of these farms offered are being completed now.

A charter was issued today for The Troy Milling Co., of Troy, Montgomery county, capital $25,000 authorized and $10,000 subscribed by J. W. Lemons and others.

THE STATE FAIR.

Outlook is Bright Indeed—Many Exhibits Are Promised.

(Special Star Corespondence.)

Raleigh, N. C., Sept. 10.—Secretary Joseph E. Pogue, of the State Fair, says the outlook is the very best for a tremendous success in the holding of the fair for this year, which will be held October 14th to 18th. He says the indications are for the biggest agricultural and horticultural exhibits on record for this State. The demands for space for horticultural exhibits is especially great, it being impossible to provide anything like the amount of space that is being asked for and, indeed, insisted upon. The exhibitions of agricultural machinery which have been especially great for several years past, are sure to pass all previous records, both in extent and in character of the exhibits. A number of very extensive manufacturers are exhibiting this season for the first time in the North Carolina fair. Secretary Pogue is arranging for the most extensive open air free attractions in connection with the midway and racing grounds ever seen at a State fair, he says, and the racing attractions promise to be excellent.

BURIED SHIP AT SAVANNAH.

Dredge Uncovers Ancient Vessel in Bed of River.

Savannah, Sept. 10.—Uncovered by a dredge used in keeping the Savannah river channel clear just below the city, the frame of a very old ship, thought to be either a slave ship or an old Spanish warship, has been found. Spanish coins, a number of sets of manacles, old musket locks, and timbers, well preserved though long buried in the sand, have been sucked up from the river bed.

Divers are at work today striving to determine the dimensions of the vessel. She probably was 160 feet long. Her beam has not yet been measured. The government snag boat Tugaldo will use dynamite in an effort to uncover all the old wreck.

Old river men remember no old stories of any ship sunk in this location a mile towards the sea from the city.

COW TO WILSON FUND.

Enfield, N. C., Man Makes Unique Contribution—Sell at Auction.

Raleigh, N. C., Sept. 10.—A Jersey cow, giving five gallons, is the unique contribution of S. Pope, of Enfield, N. C., to the Woodrow Wilson campaign fund being raised by the News and Observer of Raleigh, of which Josephus Daniels, chairman of the publicity bureau of the Democratic National committee, is editor.

The cow is to be sold at auction in Enfield next Saturday and is valued at $75.

Edward E. Britton, who was secretary of the Democratic National Convention, acting editor of the paper while Mr. Daniels is in New York, has called on the Democrats of the State to bid on the cow by letters and telegrams.

LARGE TREE FLOATS IN SEA.

Fully Leaved, Its Branches Filled With Birds of Gay Plumage.

Boston, Sept. 10.—A large tree fully leafed out and with its branches alive with birds of gay plumage floated in the sea 100 miles from land, according to officers and passengers of the steamer Limon, just arrived here from Jamaica.

The tree was encountered off the west coast of Cuba. About 30 feet of it was clear above the water line and it stood upright as if embedded in the ocean bottom.

The officers of the steamer were of the opinion that the tree went afloat in a cave-in on some shore line and retained sufficient soil and rocks entwined in its roots to serve as ballast.

JAKE WELLS TO CHARLOTTE

Richmond Theatre Would Interest Local People In House

Charlotte, Sept. 10.—The proposition for a new vaudeville and theatrical building for Charlotte promises to develop into something tangible within the next few days. Mr. Jake Wells and B. S. Muckenfuss will be here some time this week to take up the matter and ascertain if the proposition can be carried out to secure $40,000 subscriptions from Charlotte citizens, the theatrical people to contribute the remainder, $60,000. Mr. Wells will undertake to guarantee the Charlotte stockholders 10 per cent on their investment.

RED MEN MEET

State Councils Will Care for Orphans Of Deceased Members

Charleston, S. C., Sept. 10.—The great councils of the several States will hereafter care for the orphans of deceased members of the Improved Order of Red Men.

This was practically the only action of importance which took place today during the annual convention of the Red Men now in executive session here. The annual election of officers is scheduled for tomorrow. It was postponed today on account of the lengthy executive session.

MOB SHOOTS NEGRO IN JAIL

trance. None of the other prisoners were molested.

While no further trouble is anticipated tonight's threats of violence are being made on all sides in the event that Cox, or the five negroes spirited to Marietta, are brought back here for trial.

Prisoners Rushed to Atlanta.

Atlanta, Ga., Sept. 10.—Fearing a demonstration similar to the lynching in Cumming today, the five prisoners held at Marietta in connection with an assault on a white woman at Cumming last week were spirited to Atlanta tonight.

The prisoners were taken to Marietta Saturday after a clash between whites and negroes at Cumming was averted by the arrival of two companies of State militia. They were arrested in connection with an assault last Thursday on a white woman and were to have been taken to Cumming today for trial. Bitter feeling against the prisoners led the officials to rush them to Atlanta.

PEOPLE PAYING THE FREIGHT.

Wilson Campaign Being Financed by Voters Themselves.

Chicago, Sept. 10.—It is unusual for the voters themselves to pay the expenses of a political campaign in this country, but that is exactly what is being done in connection with the candidacy of Governor Woodrow Wilson for the Presidency. Through the medium of the Democratic press of the country this is being accomplished to a large extent. Approximately 1,200 newspapers already have opened their columns for popular contributions. Of these nearly 900 are weekly and the remainder are daily newspapers.

The responses received so far have been gratifying to the managers for Governor Wilson. The theory is that the people will be glad to pay the legitimate expenses of the campaign if given an opportunity to do so, and it was for this reason that the plan of appealing to them through the newspapers was formulated.

Contributions under the press contributions plan are being received by Rolla Wells, the treasurer of the National Democratic Committee, in amounts ranging from 50 cents to $100 and upwards. Governor Wilson has simply requested that all donations be closely scrutinized with the idea of rejecting those which are given by corporations or financial interests for ulterior purposes.

Col. Robert Ewing, National committeeman from Louisiana, and publisher of the New Orleans States, is in charge of the Press Contribution Bureau. He was remarkably successful four years ago when, through his own paper, he collected nearly $35,000 in Louisiana, Arkansas and Mississippi. His offices are located in the Karpen building, Chicago, having been removed to the new location from New York last week.

DELAWARE CONVENTION.

Democrats Nominate State Officers and Adopt Platform.

Dover, Del., Sept. 10.—The Democratic State Convention which met here today, named three Presidential electors, nominated Franklin C. Brookson, of Kent county, for Congress and selected candidates for State offices, as follows:

Governor, Thomas M. Monaghan, Wilmington; Lieut.-Governor, Colen Ferguson, New Castle county; Attorney-General, Josiah A. Wolcott, Wilmington; Auditor of Accounts, Wm. Poole, Prettiman, Sussex county; State Treasurer, Chas. A. Hastings, Sussex county, and Insurance and Banking Commissioner, Wm. R. McCabe, Sussex county.

The platform adopted endorses that of the National convention at Baltimore, favors a revision, and a gradual reduction of the tariff, "not by those who make it an instrument of abuse, extortion and discrimination, but by friends of the masses;" an employer's compensation act; the completion of the inland waterways and the acquisition by the Federal government of the Delaware and Chesapeake Ship Canal and the publication before election of all political contributions.

S. C. MAN MISSING

Jno. F. Warren, of Greenwood, Leaves New Orleans—Gets Lost

New Orleans, La., Sept. 10.—John F. Warren, of Greenwood, S. C., who came here on September 2nd to accept the position as assistant district observer of the New Orleans Weather Bureau, has mysteriously disappeared. When he failed to report for duty the second day after his arrival here it was believed he had decided to give up his position and returned to his home.

Today, however, an appeal was made to the Weather Bureau officials by his South Carolina relatives to institute search for him. Warren is 25 years old, and served for a while in the Railway Mail Service. Before coming to New Orleans he was in the Weather Bureau station at Key West, Fla.

NEW DIVING RECORD FOR NAVY.

Chief Boatswain's Mate Goes Down 96 Feet to Seek Torpedo.

Newport, R. I., Sept. 10—Chief Boatswain's Mate Charles Zucker, is the holder of a new diving record for the navy. He went down 96 feet in the water off Princeton during a cruise just ended here, in search of a torpedo lost by the destroyer Paulding.

The pressure of the water at so great a depth affected him so that he was unconscious for a considerable time after coming to the surface.

THE SOUTHERN NATIONAL BANK

BANKS AND LIQUOR

Interesting Question in Supreme Court From Craven County

Raleigh, N. C., Sept. 10.—Whether a bank in handling a draft for money and a bill of laden for whiskey is guilty of violating the prohibition law came up before the Supreme Court today from Craven county in the case of State vs. Fisher and Banking Company, the jury having returned a verdict to the effect that if the delivery of the draft and bill of lading to Carl Spencer, a minor, was a violation of the law, then John H. Fisher, of Richmond and the Mutual Aid and Banking Company, of Newbern, were guilty of selling liquor. The court held that the facts as found by the jury do not constitute a violation of the prohibition law and the State appealed. The case was argued in the Supreme Court today for the State by Mr. Thos. H. Calvert, assistant attorney general.

Among the attorneys attending court this week are: Gov. Thos. J. Jarvis, S. J. Everett, W. F. Evans, Julius Brooks, Harry Skinner, Greenville; J. L. Ward, L. I. Moore, W. D. McIver, D. E. Henderson, O. H. Guion, Newbern; E. M. Land, Herbert F. Seawell, Carthage; J. H. Gorman, Morehead City.
